THIS Company is one of the oldest,

THIS Company is one of the oldest,

and among the most prudently and successfully conducted in the country. The primary object in conducting its business has been to provide perfect security under all conceivable circumstances, for the payment of its losses under its policies, and to return to the insured the surplus at stated periods, and strict economy is observed.

Every insured person is a member of the company and shares in the profits of the business, and is subject to no liability or assessments beyond his premium.

The directors are required to be pecuniarily interested in the company, and they give it their personal attention; and bonds of sufficient security are given by its officers for the faithful performance of their duties.

Insurance may be effected for the benefit of the wife,

We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazardous than any other, consequently you will have no losses only your own of the same class, and all will be on an equal footing.

Experience has shown that two-thirds, if not three-fourths of all the fires that occur are upon stores, taverus, mills, shops and such like property. In this company all such property is rejected rositively, by intimatical actions.

Farmers, took to your own interest, and insure in a Farmers' Company.

Capital and accumulation, $650,000. THIS Company is one of the oldest, and among the most prudently and successfully conducted in the country. The primary object in conducting its business has been to provide perfect security under all conceivable circumstances, for the payment of its losses under its policies, and to return to the insured the surplus at stated periods, and strict economy is observed.

Every insured person is a member of the company and shares in the profits of the business, and is subject to no liability or assessments beyond his premium.

The directors are required to be pecuniarily interested in the company, and they give it their personal attention; and bonds of sufficient security are given by its officers for the faithful performance of their duties. Insurance may be effected for the benefit of the wife, which is secured to her by law beyond the reach of a husband's creditors; and creditors may insure the

THE MADISON MUTUAL, LOCATED AT MADISON, WISCONSIN. THIS Company continues to take risks upon

Farm Property only, consisting of buildings of all kinds, (belonging to farmers,) household furniture, grain in barns, live stock, &c., from one to five years, at lower rates than most other responsible companies.

All losses promptly paid at the office as soon as proof We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazardous than any other, consequently you will have no losses only your own of the same class, and all will be on an equal footing.

Experience has shown that two-thirds, if not three-fourths of all the fires that occur are upon stores, taverns, mills, shops and such like property. In this company all such property is rejected Positively, by Letting Them Alone.

Farmers, look to your own interest, and insure in a Farmers' Company.

We have been doing business a little over three years, and we have not been obliged to assess our premium notes, and for the last fourteen months we have not had a single dollar loss, though doing a large and prosperous business, which we believe to be without a parallel in the history of insurance.

The best of references given as to the responsibility of the company.

THIS Company is one of the oldest, and among the most prudently and successfully conducted in the country. The primary object in conducting its business has been to provide perfect security under all conceivable circumstances, for the payment of its losses under its policies, and to return to the insured the surplus at stated periods, and strict economy is observed.

Every insured person is a member of the company and shares in the profile of the business, and is subject to no liability or assessments beyond his premium. The directors are required to be pecuniarly interested in the company, and they give it their personal attention; and boods of sufficient security are given by its officers for the faithful performance of their duties. Insurance may be effected for the benefit of the wife, which is secured to her by iaw beyond the reach of a husband's creditors; and creditors may insure the lives of debtors.

Call and See,

Harry Loomis was the son of a small but very intelligent farmer, who lived about four miles from the sea shore. Old Mr. Collins, a most guileless character, lived not far from him, and for nearly half a century the two families had been friends in close intimacy. Their children had been brought up together, and the ties of blood could hardly have made them dearer to each other. Joseph Collins, the younger son, had been gone for four years, during which time no tidings had been heard from him, except a vague report that he had been impressed into the British navy, and lately another report, that he was actually in some one of the ships which were hovering along our coasts. This last re-port had taken such hold upon Harvey Loomis, that he had determined to visit every ship in his power, under the pretence of selling them some. thing. We have seen that he was successful in just been through that grove myself, and there

About ten o'clock that morning, Harvey reached home, fatigued, yet greatly excited.—

"And did you want me to fix that apple so nice for bait ?"

"No, I gave it to your sweatheart!" Poor Lucy blushed, then sighed, and with a pale face went about getting Harvey's breakfast.
When it was ready, he said, "I am in a great hurry, Lucy, and I wish you would get me the great cow-bell, and the powder horn. "Are you crazy, Harvey? the cow-bell! what,

can you want of it?" "To shake and keep myself from seeing ghosts

Harvey was soon equipped, and putting the remains of his breakfast into his pocket, he once remains of his breakfast into his pocket, he once more left his father's house without speaking to from the Springfield Republican: any one else.

Deacon Mayo's farm was at the extremity of ly enriched by the help of sea-weed which the winds and the waves brought up to the beach very frequently. The house was lately abandonthe cattle were driven away the day before by the advice of Harvey. "No matter. Nothing very hard. It's a se-cret though, and it must be a part of the bargain that you never tell what you do for me. Here are two silver dollars, and they are yours if you

The negro turned his team about and went with Harrey. When they had reached the dea-con's farm, Harvey made him unyoke the team and let the oxen feed in plain sight of the ship. After wandering about for an hour or two, they were then again yoked, and Abel, grinning over his two dollars, was on his way home to the doctor's. He wondered if Harvey Loomis was erazy! "Two dollars paid to see some cattle! He go in the house and look out the window to see me drive the cattle about! He! he! he!"

After Abel was gone, and Harvey was once more alone, he said, speaking and thinking aloud, "I think the trap is well baited now, and I think they will come; but will Joseph come? And if so, how shall I know him in the dark, and shall I separate him from the rest? I can

After sunset there was a movement on board of the ship, the lieutenants conversed together, and the midshipmen swelled and walked stiffer than common, though they knew not why.
"Send Joe Strange aft," said the officer of the deck; and he soon appeared. "Strange, do you think our boats can land near yonder point?"

"Your honor knows best, but I should think "Where would you land, if you had the responsibility?"

"A little west of the Black Boys, which you see in the range of that hill."

"I see them; but pray sir, how did you know the name of those five rocks?" Joe muttered something about having heard

Harvey, the apple-seller, call them by that name. "Why, Joe, you seem to know every rock, and island, and creek, on this coast. How came you to be so great a judge in these matters?" "Common sense, sir, and having spent my boyhood on a coast something like this."

"Very like, I have suspected as much," and keenly did he fix his eye on Joe's face, but Joe stood the shot unmoved. Again bending a sharp look on him he said, "Joe, after dark we are ordered to land and bring in those cattlewould you like to go?"

"I should like to do as the boat to which I "You can go forward, sir."

The officer mused a moment, and walked to the first lieutenant, and said, "In the larboard boat, No. 3, is Joe Strange—will it be best to allow him to go, sir?" "Why not?" "Because sir, he has always claimed to be an American, and has shown so much knowledge of this coast, naming the very rocks on it, that I begin to think he's more that half right, and if so, he'll give us the slip the first moment that

"True, but don't see that he can escape to-night. A boat of marines will go with you, with orders to shoot any man that offers to stir.

The officer bowed, shook his head, and retired. In a few moments the drums beat the marines to quarters, and the bugles at the several port-holes sounded the notes that called each boat's company. The heart of Joe Strange beat quick and hard as he listened to see if his boat would be called. Presently its well-known nt checked him on an air as ind fferent as pos ible.

The boats were let down and manned, and empty boats were in tow to bring off the cattle.

with "a middy" and a few men in each. The water was still, but the night was profoundly dark. They had about a mile to go before they reached the house of the farm. Over a sait marsh and over little creeks, and over bars of sand, and through the stiff sedge grass, they went till they reached the house.

There were no signs of men, and the cattle were not in the barn-yard as they expected. It was now necessary to light their lanterns and search. On lighting the lantern the officer said, Jo: Strange, where is your hat, sir?"
"It was knocked off in the dark as we landed, sir, and I could not find it." After searching all about the premises and finding no cattle, the officers began to storm and the men to swear in muttered tones. Just then in a small grove a little distance off, a cow-bell was heard to tinkle, and a creature to low. though to a practised ear, the lowing was not exactly herd-like.

"Forward there, marines," cried the commander of the expedition. But the marines were some way off, and they seemed in no hurry to enter the bushes. At length, however, they entered, expecting every moment to be fired upon, or at least to stumble over the dead body of Joe Strange; but they met with nothing except finding Joe's lantern, and near by it a huge cow-bell. Whether Joe was killed or carried off bodily they could not tell, but concluded there must be some Yankee trick about it. In moody silence, they turned and set the house and barn on fire, and then returned to their boats and to the ship to report; "No cattle found and one man lost." Whether to report Joe as killed, or made a prisoner, or a deserter, the officer was at a loss.

> THE GULF OF BOTHNIA .- There is not an inch of the Gulf of Bothnia but we havec rossed over; it is a very strange place; the effect of the irregular refraction is very singular; the other morning we saw a lighthouse in the air, and on looking at the chart it proved to be 50 or 60 miles sail from them, now with three hulls, now without sails, in a moment with a cloud of canvass, now turned upside down, and half a dozen ships are over the other, all as large as the bigest three-decker; when you come up with her she is some insignificant little coaster. INOCULATION FOR CHOLERA. - Inoculation with 'austic issues," now creating so much excitement and wonder among the medical savans of the matter, as was evinced by the fact that 500 town. Europe and the United States from the simplicity of its character, was not discovered by a distinguished Berlin physician, but by an American physician who is extensively known in this country. It was sent by him to the leading minds of this country and Europe as far back as 1847, and is gradually being tried as a successful and practical experiment since then. It is now seeking its way into the Prussian and Russian armies, and ere long will no doubt be introduced into Austria, France and England. It will extend itself with electrical effect over the world as the opposite of vaccination, entirely neutralizing another pestilence. It is noticed by physicians as a singular fact, that small pox precedes and succeeds this Asiatic cholera. The late Russian minister, Bodisco, introduced it to the attention of the Emperor of Russia, a year prior to his demise. As a successful experiment, it is now showing itself in practical illustrations of its preventive power, in isolated instances over this country, and will, no doubt hereafter become a fixed rods square, and on which there is a very comgovernments, together with the lives of their oldiers. The discoverer receives a reward, so noticed by European presses, diplomas from each of the universities, together with jewels taken from the crown of each monarch. The prizes through all Eupope, offered since 1819 for an "absolute and reliable preventive" of this pestilence; and that have been accumulating since 1819, amount to the sum of £148,

The prizes are to be awarded by Napoleon III., subject to the decision of the Royal academy of medicine, Paris.—Alb. Argus.

THE RESULT IN IOWA .- There is now no longer any room to doubt the complete success of the anti-Nebraska ticket in Iowa. A whiggovernor, two whig congressmen and an anti-Nebraska majority in both branches of the legislature, by which a United States senator is to be chosen, are the fruits of the victory. It is aresult of more than ordinary importance. It a forerunner of what may and must be acconplished in all the northern states. Strongly dencould be felt in other states, was a hope that the opponents of the Nebraska law might succeed in Iowa, but it was hoping against hope, and those interested in other states, would have compromised, before the event, for only partial success. How agreeably are they surprised by the complete and overwhelming victory of our off. Ships appear when they are nearly a day's gallant friends in that state. Let this encourage our friends in all the other states. No state has been more hopelessly democratic than Iowa; no state in which a democratic defeat might have been less confidently predicted. But she leads the van in a glorious triumph; let her sister states promptly sustain her when it shall be their time to come into line of battle.

The Madison Journal publishes an amu sing account of a meeting of the "glorious democracy" at that place, for the purpose of choosing delegates to the democratic county convention. A CHANCE FOR A NICE SPECULATION OVER-LOOKED .- On the 6th day of September, 1845, J. M. This simple process will, when introduced, be the means of saving large sums to European good well of water and a large garden well feneed; also, five acres adjoining the village plat under fence; also one hundred and sixty acres of prairie, lying on the road from Janesville to Waterloo, three miles from Janesville." Will any of our city readers venture to set the price asked for this property without its finding a purchaser? No one will be likely to set it low enough. It was just seven hundred dollars, cash down! For the curiosity of the thing, we should like to see a fair estimate taken of this same property now, exclusive of any improvements that may have been put upon it since. The ratio of increase would be very great.

Daniel Mitchell, formerly a barber in Beloit, but more recently of Baraboo, has been held to bail in the sum of $400 for stealing a gold watch of M. W. Jenks of Beloit, in June last. Jenks was exhibiting the watch among a party of friends at the Beloit house, and saw no more of it until it was recently discovered in the hands of Mitchell. In default of procuring A Convention of Know Northings.—The bail, he has been committed to jail to await his thickory Grove) at 5 A. M., and arrive at Chicago at 2 30 P. M. Beloit Journal, after stating the above facts,

> We understand that Mr. Mitchell has indulged somewhat freely in polygamy, having two wives in this state and another at the east.— Whether he is a Mormon or not we are not in-

U. G. B. R.—That "cullud pusson" familiarly known to our citizens as "Doc," who has for some time past devoted his time and vocal talents to the service of the Rock River Hotel as porter and runner to the cars therefor, received on Morday last an intimation that all fugitive slaves stand on slippery places, and was advised to take passage on the above mentioned road, which we learn extends considerably further north than the Beloit and Madison-even to Her Majesty's dominions; and Humanity being confuctor on it, "goods and chattels" have for some time been passed duty free into Canada, evin before the late reciprocity treaty between the U. S. and Canada was confirmed. This furnihes another proof that humanity often anticipites legislation.

The "Doc" was not a man of brilliant parts, but he did what he could to make the understandings of others shine. His powers of permeet in their respective assembly districts and select suasion were remarkable, his emphatic invitatwo delegates from each to represent them in a congressional convention to be held at Mineral Point on Wednesday, the 13th of September, at 12 o'clock M., to nominate a candidate to be supported at the approach prietor need give himself no unnecessary concern and expense in regard to him.

" Sie itur ad north astra." by all "sich" as he until the advent of the good time coming."-Beloit Journal.

STREET AFFRAY .- Tom. Hood a self-nominated candidete for judge of this circuit, made a pugilistic attack upon C. D. Finch, this morning, on Fairchilds corner, on account of some reflections made upon the character of said Hood by Finch. To say nothing of the propriety of a candidate for judge fighting his way to an election, we think, in this instance, a candidate would have more than he could do between this and election if he should attempt to chastise every man in community who regards him as a notorious gambler and a worthless character, besides having to "clean out" seweral grand juries in Ohio who have heretofore found indictments against him. We regret the necessity of having to deal with such characters, but while there are men in community, laying claims to respectability, who for their own purposes, seek to impose this man upon us, with high judicial functions, we see no alternative.-Madison Argus.

OSHKOSH BRICK .- We were shown yesterday by Messrs. Cross and Matthews, specimens of brick made by them at their yard in this city. They are equal in every respect to the famous Milwaukee brick, being of an even buff color, and so hard that they ring like metal when struck together. But one kiln, containing about 50,000 has yet been burnt, but now that it has been shown beyond a doubt that we have the requisite materials for their manufacture in abundance, the business will be prosecuted with the vigor and earnestness its importance demands .- Oshkosh Courier.

WEST POINT GRADUATES .- By general orders No. 11 from the war department, we notice that our three Badger boys, who were graduated at West Point in June last, are assigned to the following corps: Thomas H. Ruger, to the corps of engineers, the highest in rank in the service : E. F. Townsend, company G. 3d artillery (now in California;) and Edgar O'Connor, company F. 3d infantry .- Mil. Sent.

BAPTIST COLLEGE LOCATED .- An extra from the Republican office at Beaver Dam informs us that this institution has been located at that village, $5000 having been pledged by the citizens together with a site worth $4000.

Highly Important to Farmers. THE ONLY ENGLUSIVE FARMERS INSURANCE COMPANY IN THE WEST,

THE MADISON MUTUAL, LOCATED AT MADISON, WISCONSIN.

THIS Company continues to take risks upon Farm Property only, corsisting of buildings of all kinds, (belonging to farmers,) household furniture, grain in barns, live stock, &c., from one to five years, at low-or rates than most other responsible companies.

All lesses promptly paid at the office as soon as proof a made thereon.
We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazard out than any other, consequently you will have u ous than any other, consequently you will have no losses only your own of the same class, and all will be or an equal footing.

Experience has shown that two-thirds, if not three-Experience has shown that two-thirds, it not three-fourths of all the fires that occur are upon stores, tav-erns, mills, shops and such like property. In this com-pany all such property is rejected PositiveLY, by LET-

TING THEM ALONE.
Parmers, look to your own interest, and insure in a Farmers' Company.
We have been doing business a little over three years, We have not been obliged to assess our premium notes, and we have not been obliged to assess our premium notes, and for the last fourteen months we have not had a single dollar loss, though doing a large and presperous business, which we believe to be without a parallel in the history of insurance.

PINE LUMBER.-Mr. Norris is now sawing about 10,000 feet of pine lumber, and when he gets his new mill done, will be able to saw 200,-000 per week. We have no means of ascertaining the extent of the demand, for this portion of the state, but it seems to us that the rate of supply mentioned above would be sufficient to supply the whole southern and south-western yart of Wisconsin, and a portion of northern Illinois, and there is no question but that it can be afforded as cheap here as at the lake ports.

HASTY RETREAT.-The Cyane arrived in Boston on Sunday, having on board Mr. Fabens, U. S. commercial agent at Grevtown. This percipitate departure from the scene of the outrage is a fitting sequel to the cowardly attack upon San Juan. Was the commander afraid of meeting a British force more than "doubly equal" his own? So brave a man ought to have remained and seen the affair to an end. It would have occurred to almost any other officer in the service that the presence of an armed vessel in the waters of Nicaragua might be needed for the protection of the interests of American citizens, necessarily imperiled by the wanton destruction of the property of for-eigners at Greytown. Hollins' conduct appears to resemble that of the incendiary, who having fired a house, runs away to avoid the consequences. He may have acted under the orders of the navy department; but in that case we think he would have been excused if he had remained long enough to see what was to come of his exploit.—Buff. Com.

D. S. Rudock, editor of the New London Star, has been appointed surveyor of that port. The Star supported the Nebraska bill. As the salary of the office is $500, and as the Star is not much of a paper, the New Bedford Standard is inclined to think the administration has got the worst of the trade! This editor is the sixth in the state that has been appointed to office by this disinterested and discriminating administration, and these six patriots are the only zealous defenders of the eccentricities of their patrons, in the "land of steady habits."

HARD OF HEARING-DOING A DUN .- "I have a small bill against you," said the pertinacious collector, as he entered the store of one who had acquired the character of a hard customer. "Yes, sir, a very fine day, indeed," was the reply. "I am not speaking of the weather, but your bill," replied Peter, in a loud key. "It would be better if we had a little rain." "Confound the rain," continued the collector, and raising his voice: "Have you any money to pay on the bill?" "Beg your pardon, I'm hard the trouble of returning it. HOLDEN, KEMP & Co. of hearing; I have made it a rule not to lend my funds to strangers, and I really don't recognize you." "I am collector for the Philadelphia Daily Extinguisher, sir, and I have a bill against you," persisted the collector, at the top of his voice, producing the bill, and thrusting it into the face of his debtor. "I've determined to endorse for no one, you may put that note back in your pocket-book, I really can't endorse it." "Confound your endorsements—will you pay it?" "You will pay it no doubt sir; but there's always a risk about these matters you know, so I must decline it." "The money must be mine to-day." "Oh, yes, ninety days; but I would not endorse for you for a week; so clear out of my store. It's seldom that I'm pressed upon for an endorsement, even by my friends; on the part of a stranger, sir, such conduct is inexplicable. Do not force me to put you out; leave the premises." And the bill was returned to the Extinguisher office endorsed-"So confounded deaf that he could'nt understand."-Illustrated

MR. EDITOR:—In reply to the interrogatory of "Sand Bar," in the Daily Morning Advocate of the 11th inst., I would state, that in the month of October, 1852, I was in the office of Gen. Pierce, in Concord, New Hampshire, and had at that time a conversation with him in relation to appropriations by the general government for the improvement of western rivers and harbors. Taking a bound volume of printed speeches and letters in his hand, he turned to the letter of Silas Wright to the Chicago convention, and observed that the sentiments of that letter were his own; that he was not in favor of appropriations by the general government for the purpose of creating commerce in places where it did not exist, but wherever it did exist, it ought to be protected and encouraged, and that he had no more doubt of the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations by the general government for the improvement of western harbors and rivers than he had of the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations by the general government for the construction of light-houses and other similar objects on the Atlantic coast, and he added "I understand the letter of Silas Wright to the Chicago convention to be satisfactory to all western men." These are his statements as then made, and to show that I am not mistaken, I copy this statement of his, from a memorandum then made, at Gen. Pierce's own

Sand Bar, however, is mistaken as to my having performed a "pilgrimage" to see General Pierce in the year 1852. I was formerly a resident of New Hampshire, and have relatives there, and on passing through Concord, on my return from visiting them, I met Gen. Pierce at the railroad depot and accompanied him to his office, being desirous of ascer-taining precisely his views of appropriations for harbors and rivers, about which there were doubts in the minds of many democrats.

Yours, truly, W. E. WORDING. Aug. 12, 1854.

[To be concluded.]

Harry Loomis was the son of a small but very intelligent farmer, who lived about four miles from the sea shore. Old Mr. Collins, a most guileless character, lived not far from him, and for nearly half a century the two families had been friends in close intimacy. Their children had been brought up together, and the ties of blood could hardly have made them dearer to each other. Joseph Gollins, the younger son, had been gone for four years, during which time tiding had heen heard from him execution. no tidings had been heard from him, except a vague report that he had been impressed-into British navy, and lately another report, that he was actually in some one of the ships which were hovering along our coasts. This last report had taken such hold upon Harvey Loomis, that he had determined to visit every ship in his power, ander the pretence of selling them some We have seen that he was successful in thing.

About ten o'clock that morning, Harvey reached home, fatigued, yet greatly excited.—
"Now Lucy, for some breakfast! I'm tired and hungry," and be paick, girl, for I must be off

What in the world are you doing, Harvey? This is something new for you! You were never out night after night before! Mother is distressed about it, and so am I. Do tell us what it means 2" and and are a second and a second are a second a second are a second a seco

"All in due time, sis. You must know I am hunting raceoons, and you know they are to be caught in the night." "And did you want me to fix that apple so nice for bait?"

"No, I gave it to your sweatheart!"

Poor Lucy blushed, then sighed, and with a pale face went about getting Harvey's breakfast. When it was ready, he said, "I am in a great hurry, Lucy, and I wish you would get me the great cov-bell, and the powder horn."

"Are you crazy, Harvey? the cow-bell! what, can you want of it?"

"To shake and keep myself from seeing ghosts

Harvey was soon equipped, and putting the remains of his breakfast into his pocket, he once more left his father's house without speaking to

Deacon-Mayo's farm was at the extremity of a point of land which projected out into the sound. On three sides it was bounded by water. It was a large dairy farm, well stocked, and easily enriched by the help of sea-weed which the winds and the waves brought up to the beach very frequently. The house was lately abandoned by the inhabitants for fear of the enemy, and the cattle were driven away the day before by the advice of Harvey. This farm was full eight miles from Harvey's home. Towards this farm he new bent his steps. It was several miles from any other house. When he had come within two or three miles of the farm, he met Abel, an honest black man, well known and highly esteemed. He was driving a long team

"Well, Abel, a fine team that. To whom does it belong?" 'To the doctor."

"To the doctor, he? Well, I have a notion in my head. I want to hire you and that team till the sun is about an hour high. What will you go for?"

"What to do?"
"No matter.: Nothing very hard. It's a secret though, and it must be a part of the bargain that you never tell what you do for me. Here are two silver dollars, and they are yours if you

The negro turned his team about and went with Harvey. When they had reached the deacon's farm. Harvey made him unyoke the team and let the oxen feed in plain sight of the ship. After wandering about for an hour or two, they were then again yoked, and Abel, grinning over his two dollars, was on his way home to the doctor's. He wondered if Harvey Loomis was erazy! "Two dollars paid to see some cuttle! He go in the house and look out the window to see me drive the cattle about! He! he! he!

After Abel was gone, and Harvey was conce more alone, he said, speaking and thinking aloud, "I think the trap is well baited now, and I think they will come; but will Joseph come? And if so, how shall I know him in the dark, and shall I separate him from the rest? I can bardly sec."

After sunset there was a movement on board of the ship, the lieutenants conversed together, and the mid-hipmen swelled and walked stiffer than complon, though they knew not why.

"Send Joe Strange aft," said the officer of the deck; and he soon appeared.

"Strange, do you think our boats can land near yonder point?"

they might."
"Where would you land, if you had the responsibility ?" A little west of the Black Boys, which you see in the range of that hill." "I see them; but pray sir, how did you know the name of those five rocks?"

Joe muttered something about having heard Harvey, the apple-seller, call them by that name. "Why, Joe, you seem to know every rock, and island; and creek, on this coast. How came you to be so great a judge in these matters?"

"Common sense, sir, and having spent my boyhood on a coast something like this." "Very like, I have suspected as much," and keenly did he fix his eye on Joe's face, but Joe stood the shot unmoved. Again bending a sharp look on him he said, "Joe, after dark we are ordered to land and bring in those cattlewould you like to go?" "I should like to do as the boat to which I belong does sir."

"You can go forward, sir."

The officer mused a moment, and walked to the first licensed, and said, "In the larboard boat, No. 3. 19. Joe Strange will it be best to allow him to go, sing."

"Why not?"

"Because of he has always claimed to be an American, and has shown so much knowledge.

of this coast, baming the very rocks on it, that I begin to think he's more that half right, and if so, he'll give us the slip the first moment that

"True, but I don't see that he can escape to-night. A boat of marines will go with you, with orders to shoot any man that offers to stir.

Let him go."

The officer bowed, shook his head, and retired. In a few moments the drums beat the marines to quarters, and the bugles at the several port-holes sounded the notes that called each boat's company. The heart of Joe Strange heat quick and nard as he listened to see if his boat would be called. Presently its well-known notes were sounded, and he leaved, towards it; but a second thought checked him, and he put on an air as ind fferent as possible.

The boats were let down and manned, and empty boats were in tow to bring off the cattle. With mudled cars they now moved towards the shore, going west of the Black Boys, as Joe had advised. After landing as noiselessly as possible, the boats by off a few rods from the shore, in the wells and springs.

with "a middy" and a few men in each. The water was still, but the night was profoundly dark. They had about a mile to go before they reached the house of the farm. Over a saltmarsh and over little creeks, and over bars of sand, and through the stiff sedge grass, they wont till they reached the house.

There were no signs of men, and the cattle were not in the barn-yard as they expected. It was now necessary to light their lanterns and search. On lighting the lantern the officer said, Jo: Strange, where is your hat, sir?"

"It was knocked off in the dark as we landed, sir, and I could not find it."

After searching all about the premises and finding no cattle, the officers began to storm and the men to swear in muttered tones. Just then in a small grove a little distance off, a cow-bell was beard to tinkle, and a creature to low. though to a practised ear, the lowing was not exactly, herd-like.

"There they are now!" said one of the offi-They are not, sir," said another; I have just been through that grove myself, and there are no caltle there." Again the cow-bell was heard to tinkle. Joe waited no second bidding, but with lantern in his hand, made for the grove. Scarcely had be entered it before the flash and the oar of a gun was heard, and his light extinguished. "Forward there, marines," cried the commander of the expedition. But the marines were some way of, and they seemed in no hurry to enter the bushes. At length, however, they entered, expecting every moment to be fired upon, or at least to stumble over the dead body of Joe Strange; but they met with nothing ex-cept finding Joe's lantern, and near by it a huge cow-bell. Whether Joe was killed or carried off bodily they could not tell, but concluded there must be some Yankee trick about it. In moody silence, they turned and set the house and barn on fire, and then returned to their boats and to the ship to report; "No cattle found and one man lost." Whether to report Joe as killed, or made a prisoner, or a deserter, the officer was at a loss.

WHY PEOPLE STAY HOME THIS SUMMER .- WE clip the following spicy and judicious paragraph from the Springfield Republican:

The tide of pleasure travel flows lazily this season. The cholora runs rampart over the country, and money is one per cent a month.-Relaxed bowels and a tightened purse keep peo ale at home. Those who are not afraid of cholera are afraid of their creditors, and those can look the latter boldly in the face, and slap their hands courageously on a well-filled wallet, go into tremors over green apples, and shake their heads solemnly as they put their hands on the lower abdomen. So between the lack of bowels of compassion in these times, and the superabundance of bowels of impassion in the physical system, a good many people, to whom home is a stranger in July and August, are successfully holding out in their own castles against the sheriff and the doctor. Happy for them it is so. Lucky if health and immunity are so easi-Let them add a contented spirit, and they will taste of joys in the quiet circles of home that are strangers in the crowded and heated and dusty rail-car, and in the cribbed, cabined, confined quarters of a fashionable Itotel at a fashionable resort."

THE GULF OF BOTHNIA. - There is not an inch of the Gulf of Bothnia but we havee rossed over: t is a very strange place; the effect of the irregular refraction is very singular; the other morning we saw a lighthouse in the air, and on looking at the chart it proved to be 50 or 60 miles off. Ships appear when they are nearly a day's sail from them, now with three buils, now without sails, in a moment with a cloud of canvass. now turned upside down, and half a dozen ships are over the other, all as large as the bigest three-decker; when you come up with her she is some insignificant little coaster. We are within a couple of degrees of the Artic circle; the sun does not set until 10 P. M., and he rais es about 2. We have broad day light all the time he is below the horizon. We are going up to the head of the gulf, and when there we shall see the sun at midnight.—[Letter from an officer in the Napier fleet.

INCCULATION FOR CHOLERA. - Inoculation with austic issues," now creating so much excitement and wonder among the medical savans of Europe and the United States from the simplicity of its character, was not discovered by a distinguished Berlin physician, but by an America i physician who is extensively known in this country. It was sent by him to the leading minds of this country and Europe back as 1847, and is gradually being since then. It is now seeking its way into the trical effect over the world as the opposite of vaccination, entirely neutralizing another pestilence. It is noticed by physicians as a singular fact, that small pox precedes and succeeds this Asiatic cholera. The late Russian minister, Bodisco, introduced it to the attention of the Emperor of Russia, a year prior to his demise. As a successful experiment, it is now showing itself in practical illustrations of its preventive power, in isolated instances over this country, and will, no doubt hereafter become a fixed fact. This simple process will, when introduced, be the means of saving large sums to European governments, together with the lives of their soldiers. The discoverer receives a reward, so noticed by European presses, diplomas from each of the universities, together with jewels taken from the crown of each monarch. The prizes through all Eupope, offered since 1819 for an "absolute and reliable preventive" of tills pestilence; and that have been accumulating since 1819; amount to the sum of £148, .000.

The prizes are to be awarded by Napoleon III., subject to the decision of the Royal academy of medicine, Paris.—Alb. Arms.

About a year and a half since, some persons in searching at West Milford, Passaic Co., N. J., for iron ore, came across a bed of clay, with the nature of which they were unacquainted.— Until recently it has not been improved, on account of ignorance of its value; but a scientific investigation has revealed the fact that it is Koaliu, an exceedingly valuable porcelain clay, which is quite scarce. It can be used in the manufacture of porcelain ware, tiles, fire brick, the glazing of cards, soap paint, etc. The de-posit at West Milford is of the purest kind. THE RESULT IN IOWA .- There is now no longer any room to doubt the complete success of the anti-Nebraska ticket in Iowa. A whiggovernor, two whig congressmen and an anti-Nebraska majority in both branches of the legislature, by which a United States senator is ti be chosen, are the fruits of the victory. It is aresult of more than ordinary importance. It is a forerunner of what may and must be accomplished in all the northern states. Strongly denocratic, and naturally proslavery, the most that could be felt in other states, was a hone that the opponents of the Nebraska law might succeed in Iowa, but it was hoping against hope, and those interested in other states, would have compromised, before the event, for only partial success. How agreeably are they surprised by the complete and overwhelming victory of our gallant friends in that state. Let this encourage our friends in all the other states. No state has been more hopelessly democratic than Iowa; no state in which a democratic defeat might have been less confidently predicted. But she leads the van in a glorious triumph; let her sister states promptly sustain her when it shall be their time to come into line of battle.

The Madison Journal publishes an amusing account of a meeting of the "glorious democracy" at that place, for the purpose of choosing delegates to the democratic county convention. A commendable interest was shown in the matter, as was evinced by the fact that 500 votes were cast; just about the entire democratic vote. One man, as frequently happens at such gatherings, got over patriotic. The Journal says: We saw the constables marching off one deas far back as 1847, and is gradually being votce of the great party in the direction of the tried as a successful and practical experiment jail. He had got drunk on the glorious occasions the property of the great party in the direction of the property Prussan and Russian armies, and ere long will no doubt be introduced into Austria, France and England. It will extend itself with electrical effect over the world as the opposite of trical effect over the world as the opposite of the control of t obliged to pass the night in inglerious confine

A CHANCE FOR A NICE SPECULATION OVER LOOKED .- On the 6th day of September, 1845, J. M. Burgess, esq., of this city, advertised in the Cazette, the following property for sale: Twenty-one village lots, most of them eight rods square, and on which there is a very comfortable house sixteen by twenty-eight feet, good well of water and a large garden well fened; also, five acres adjoining, the village plat, under fence; also one hundred and sixty acres of prairie, lying on the road from Janesville to Waterloo, three miles from Janesville." -Will any of our city readers venture to set the price asked for this property without its finding a purchaser? No one will be likely to set it lew enough. It was just seven hundred dollars, cash down! For the curiosity of the thing, we should like to see a fair estimate taken of this same property now, exclusive of any improvements that may have been put upon it since. The ratio of increase would be very great,

Daniel Mitchell, formerly a barber in Beloit, but more recently of Baraboo, has been held to bail in the sum of $400 for stealing a gold watch of M. W. Jenks of Beloit, in June last. Jenks was exhibiting the watch among a party of friends at the Beloit house, and saw no more of it until it was recently discovered in the hands of Mitchell. In default of procuring bail, he has been committed to jail to await his trial at the next term of the circuit court. The Beloit Journal, after stating the above facts,

We understand that Mr. Mitchell has indulged somewhat freely in polygamy, having two wives in this state and another at the cast. Whether he is a Mormon or not we are not in-

STREET AFFRAY.-Tom. Hood a self-nominated candidate for judge of this circuit, made a pugilistic attack upon C. D. Finch, this morning, on Fairchilds corner, on account of some reflections made upon the character of said Hood by Finch. To say nothing of the propriety of a candidate for judge fighting his way to an election, we think, in this instance, a candidate would have more than he could do between this and election if he should attempt to chas tise every man in community who regards him as a notorious gambler and a worthless charac-ter, besides having to "clean out" seweral grand juries in Ohio who have heretofore found in-dictments against him. We regret the necessity of having to deal with such characters, but viile there are men in community, laying claims to respectability, who for their own pur poses, seek to impose this man upon us, with gel judicial functions, we see no alternative.— Madison Argus.

THE WORLD IS CHALLENGED to produce so many well authenticated certificates of cure, not only from intelligent patients, but from scien-tific Physicians. The sale now in New York is perfectly ASTONSHING, and thousands who visit the Crystal Palace wiere they are on exhibition, seldom fail to obtain a clain before they leave the city.

Thanks be to the common sense of the people who are befinning to become disgusted with the practice of making a Drug Shop of their stomach—swallowing bottle after bottle of sickening, disgusting trash, having no more effect in even relieving, much less curing, the disease for which they are recommended, than a Poor Man's Plaster applied to the top of the head would have in curing an infant of worms.

All these great and remarkable discoveries, by which every ill "which flesh is heir to" is eradicated from the carth-strange as it may seem - are made by men who are too ignorant to obtain a living by any other mode, and their knowledge of disease, its proper mode of cure, its cause, is just as extensive as an Arab's is of the mechanism of a steam engine. No intelligent person will deny the truth of this, and no Physician dare risk his reputation as an honest man, and declare that nercous seases are not more frequently increased in severity than relieved, by the old antiquated way of giving med icine into the stomach. If people will only become sensible and think for themselves, and believe that physicians practice upon their credulity more than they have any idea of, pay strict attention to temperance in all things, (which means very much,) make free use of pure cold water, internally and externally, with an occasional dash of soap, sleep in freely ventilated rooms, retire early and rise early, be happy and cheer-ful, employ their physicians to tell them "they require no physic;"-by so doing health and happine's will increase, bottled molasses and water be at a discount. and its famous discoverers be consigned to their legitimate stations.

The Hydro-Electric chains are now for the first time offered to the people of Nashua, as being a better, quicker, and safer mode of curing all nervous diseases, than any other method or means hitherto discovered. They can be used by either a grown person or a child, are always ready for use, and with little care will last for years.

CAUTION.

Ladies who are enciente, are requested not to wear them, for by long use, miscarriage is apt to be pro-Price of Chains, $3 to $5, and can be sent by mail to any part of the country, together with a pamphlet of 36 pages, containing the modes of use, certificates of J. ikheir's irocik oull, FROM a Well 400 feet deep, Near Pittsburgh, Pa., is offered to the public as a Natural Medicine of no common value. It is a different thing from the old

Kentucky or American Oil, as this is used INTERNALLY as well as externally. As a local remedy in Paralysis, Piles, Rheumatism, Deafness, Loss of Sight, Burns, &c.—also, as a valuable Internal Remedy for Piles, Ague, Scrofula, Coughs, Diarrhœa, Erysipelas, old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Female Diseases, Worms, Bladder and Kidneys, Bronchitis, Pains &c. &c., it invites the investigating Physician, as well as the suffering patient, to come acquainted with its merits. Discovered in 1849, it has within 2 or 3 years, made multitudes of cures, and multitudes of friends—and as soon as tried the Sales not only increase but hold out.

Testimony to its great merit is constantly accumulating in the hands of the proprietor by certificates, letters, and in other ways.

IT DOCTORS THE WHOLE MAN—flesh and blood
—skin and bones—from head to foot—how it acts upon the system—upon diseases of different manifestations, we cannot fully tell. While it is both cathartic and astringent, it is Alterative—and mind you, a REGULA-TOR. A leading principle in it is Naptha. When you once have it in the family you will not be without it.

Full as the world is of Patent Medicines—it is thought not best to suppress this, the work of NATURE—to make room for Human inventions. Price 50 cents per bottle. It can be had of wholesalers at the large cities and towns in the West at Proprietor's prices. HAVE WE AGUE AMONG US?-A tea spoonful every three hours in the absence of the fever will cure you of Ague or Diarrhosa. Prysicians, Druggists, and all friends of the afflicted, will do well to recommend this Oil for PROLAPSUS UTERI, and good will be done -take the usual dose 2 or 3 times a day, and bathe the lower part of the back with it. Have you SCROFULA? The Petroleum will eradicate it, root and branch, at little cost or inconvenience. Get circulars of directions for adults and children, gratis of the agents. A trial is all we ask. Mind and get the right kind—it is of a beautiful reddish color and clear. Try it for Piles. For sale by HOLDEN KEMP & CO., C. F. Simus, Cary & Gordon, Beloit; G. W. Kinsie Magnolia; Goodrich, Pavis & Co., Milton; S. A. Pond, Albany; P. D. Vaughn & Co., Union; H. Cheney, Johnstown; M. Elliot, Monroe.

THIS Company continues to take risks upon L Farm Property only, consisting of hulldings of all kinds, (belonging to farmers,) household furniture, grain in barns, live steck, &c., from one to five years, at lower rates than most other responsible companies.
All losses promptly paid at the office as soon as proof

is made thereon. We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazard-ous than any other, consequently you will have no losses only your own of the same class, and all will be on an equal footing. Experience has shown that two-thirds, if not threefourths of all the fires, that occur are upon stores, taverus; mills, shops and such like property. In this conpany all such property is rejected resittventy, by aut-

Farmers, look to your own interest, and insure in a Farmers' Company.
We have been doing business a little over three years, and we have not been obliged to assess our premium notes, and for the last fourteen months we have not had a single dollar loss, though doing a large and prosperous business, which we believe to be without a parallel in the history of insurance,

PINE LUMBER.-Mr. Norris is now sawing about 10,000 feet of pine lumber, and when he gets his new mill done, will be able to saw 200,-000 per week. We have no means of ascertaining the extent of the demand, for this portion of the state, but it seems to us that the rate of supply mentioned above would be sufficient to supply the whole southern and south-western yart of Wisconsin, and a portion of northern Illinois, and there is no question but that it can be afforded as cheap here as at the lake ports.

HASTY RETREAT.-The Cyane arrived in Boston on Sunday, having on board Mr. Fabens, U. S. commercial agent at Greytown. This percipitate departure from the scene of the outrage is a fitting sequel to the cowardly attack upon San Juan. Was the commander afraid of meeting a British force more than "doubly equal" his own? So brave a man ought to have remained and seen the affair to an end. It would have occurred to almost any other officer in the service that the presence of an armed vessel in the waters of Nicaragua might be needed for the protection of the interests of American citizens, necessarily imperiled by the wanton destruction of the property of for-eigners at Greytown. Hollins' conduct appears to resemble that of the incendiary, who having fired a house, runs away to avoid the conse quences. He may have acted under the orders of the navy department; but in that case we think he would have been excused if he had remained long enough to see what was to come of his exploit.—Buff. Com.

D. S. Rudock, editor of the New London Star, has been appointed surveyor of that port. The Star supported the Nebraska bill. the salary of the office is $500, and as the Star is not much of a paper, the New Bedford Standard is inclined to think the administration has got the worst of the trade! This editor is the sixth in the state that has been appointed to office by this disinterested and discriminating administration, and these six patriots are the only zealous defenders of the eccentricities of their patrons, in the "land of steady habits."

HARD OF HEARING-Doing A Dun.-"I have a small bil against you," said the pertinacious collector, as he entered the store of one who had acquired the character of a hard customer. "Yes, sir, a very fine day, indeed," was the reply. "I am not speaking of the weather, but your bili," replied Peter, in a loud key. "It would be better if we had a little rain." "Confound the rain" continued the collector, and found the rain," continued the collector, and found the rain," continued the collector, and raising his voice: "Have you any money to pay on the bill?" "Beg your pardon, I'm hard of hearing; I have made it a rule not to lend my funds to strangers, and I really don't recognize you." "I am collector for the Philadelphia Daily Extinguisher, sir, and I have a bill against you," persisted the collector, at the top of his voice, producing the bill, and thrusting it into the face of his debtor. "I've determined to endorse for no one, you may put that note back endorse for no one, you may put that note back in your pocket-book, I really can't endorse it." "Confound your endorsements—will you pay it?" "You will pay it no doubt sir; but there's always a risk about these matters you know, so I must decline it." "The money must be mine to-day." "Oh, yes, ninety days; but I would not endorse for you for a week; so clear out of my store. It's seldom that I'm pressed upon for an endorsement, even by my friends; on the part of a stranger, sir, such conduct is inexplicable. Do not force me to put you out; leave the premises." And the bill was returned to the Extinguisher office endorsed—"So confounded deaf that he could'nt understand."—Illustrated

Mr. Editor:—In reply to the interrogatory of "Sand Bar," in the Daily Morning Advocate of the 11th inst., I would state, that in the month of October, 1852, I was in the office of Gen. Pierce, in Concord, New Hampshire, and had at that time a conversation with him in relation to appropriations by the general government for the improvement of western rivers and harbors. Taking a bound volume of printed speeches and letters in his hand, he turned to the letter of Silas Wright to the Chicago convention, and observed that the sentiments of that letter were his own; that he was not in favor of appropriations by the general government for the purpose in nlaces where i exist, but wherever it did exist, it ought to be protected and encouraged, and that he had no more doubt of the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations by the general govern-ment for the improvement of western harbors and rivers than he had of the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations by the general government for the construction of light-houses and other similar objects on the Atlantic coast, and he added "I understand the letter of Silas Wright to the Chicago convention to be satisfactory to all western men." These are his statements as then made, and to show that I am not mistaken, I copy this statement of his, from a memorandum then made, at Gen. Pierce's own suggestion.

Sand Bar, however, is mistaken as to my having performed a "pilgrimage" to see General Pierce in the year 1852.

I was formerly a resident of New Hampshire, and have relatives there, and on passing through Concord, on my return from visiting them, I met Gen. Pierce at the railroad depot and accompanied him to his office, being desirous of ascer-taining precisely his views of appropriations for harbors and rivers, about which there were doubts in the minds of many democrats.

Yours, truly, W. E. WORDING.

Aug. 12, 1854.

Racine Advocate.

HUMILIATING CONFESSION.-Wentworth says "Only four senators from the free states voted against the river and harbor improvement bill, and every one of them voted to repeal the Missouri compromise law.

When a northern man undertakes to go with the south, he has but little margin in which to be useful to his constituents. The more he does the more they exact."

Humiliating as it is, it is nevertheless true that the more northern doughfaces do the more is exacted from them. Their noses are kept continually to the grindstone. They are not only called upon to pass fugitive slave laws, but unless they turn out in person to catch every fugitive that comes along, they are denounced as abolitionists, and held up as willing to destroy the union. Like the daughters of the horse leech, the south are continually crying give! give!! and it is just such men as "affectionate Frank Pierce" that "acquiesce," aided and abetted by such immaculate fellows as this same John Wentworth.—Chicago Journal.

Harry Loomis was the son of a small but very intelligent farmer, who lived about four miles from the sea shore. Old Mr. Collins, a most guileless character, lived not far from him, and for nearly half a century the two families hadbeen friends in close intimacy. Their children had been brought up together, and the ties of blood could hardly have made them dearer to each other: Joseph Collins, the younger son, had been gone for four years, during which time no tidings had been heard from him, except a vague report that he had been impressed into the British nay, and lately another report, that he was actually in some one of the ships which were hovering along our coasts. This last report had taken such hold upon Harvey Loomis, that he had determined to visit every ship in his power, under the pretence of selling them some We have seen that he was successful in his search.

About ten o'clock that morning, Harvey reached home, fatigued, yet greatly excited.— "Now Lucy, for some breakfast! I'm tired and hungry; and be quick, girl, for I must be off

'What in the world are you doing, Harvey? This is something new for you! You were never for out night after night before! Mother is dissipated of the expedition. But the marines were tressed about it; and so am I. Do tell us what it means?"

"All in due time, sis. You must know I am hunting raccoons, and you know they are to be caught in the night."

"And did you want me to fix that apple so nice for bait?

"No, I gave it to your sweathcart!" Poor Lucy blushed, then sighed, and with a pale face went about getting Harvey's breakfast. When it was ready, he said, "I am in a great hurry, Lucy, and I wish you would get me the great cow-bell, and the powder born. "Are you crazy, Harvey? the cow-bell! what can you want of it?" "To shake and keep myself from seeing ghosts in the dark!"

Harvey was soon equipped, and putting the remains of his breakfast into his pocket, he once more left his father's house without speaking to any one else.

Deacon Mayo's farm was at the extremity of a point of land which projected out into the sound. On three sides it was bounded by water. It was a large dairy farm, well stocked, and easily cariched by the help of sea-weed which the winds and the waves brought up to the beach very frequently. The house was lately abandoned by the inhabitants for fear of the enemy, and the cattle were driven away the day before by the advice of Harvey. This farm was full eight miles from Harvey's home. Towards this farm he now bent his steps. It was several miles from any other house. When he had come within two or three miles of the farm, he met Abel, an honest black man, well known and highly esteemed. He was driving a long team

"Well, Abel, a fine team that. To whom does it belong?" "To the ductor."

"To the doctor, he? Well, I have a notion in my head. I want to hire you and that team till the sun is about an hour high. What will you go for?" "What to do?"

"No matter. Nothing very hard. It's a se-eret though, and it must be a part of the bargain that you never tell what you do for me. Here are two silver dollars, and they are yours if you go."

The negro turned his team about and went with Harvey. When they had reached the deacon's farm, Harvey made him unyoke the team and let the oxen feed in plain sight of the ship. After wandering about for an hour or two, they were then again yoked, and Abel, grinning over his two dollars, was on his way home to the doctor's. He wondered if Harvey Loomis was crazy! "Two dollars paid to see some cattle! He go in the house and look out the window to see me drive the cattle about! He! he! he!"

After Abel was gone, and Harvey was once more alone, he said, speaking and thinking aloud, "I think the trap is well baited now, and I think they will come; but will Joseph come; And if so, how shall I know him in the dark, and shall I separate him from the rest? I can

After sunset there was a movement on board of the ship, the lieutenants conversed together, and the midshipmen swelled and walked stiffer than common; though they knew not why,
"Send Joe Strange aft," said the officer of the deck; and he soon appeared. "Strange, do you think our boats can land near youder point?"

"Your honor knows best, but I should think "Where would you land, if you had the responsibility?" " "A little west of the Black Boys, which you see in the range of that hill." "I see them; but pray sir, how did you know the name of those five rocks?"

Joe muttered something about having heard Harvey, the apple-seller, call them by that name. "Why, Joe, you seem to know every rock, and island, and creek, on this coast. How came you to be so great a judge in these matters?"

"Common sense, sir, and having spent my boyhood on a coast something like this." "Very like, I have suspected as much," and keenly did he fix his eye on Joe's face, but Joe stood the shot unmoved. Again bending a sharp look on him he said, "Joc, after dark we are ordered to land and bring in those cattle-would you like to go?" "I should like to do as the boat to which I belong does, sir."

"You can go forward, sir."

The officer mused a moment, and walked to the first licutenant, and said. In the laiboard boat, No. 3, is Lie Strange will it be best to American, and has shown so much knowledge.

About a year and a half since; some persons of this coast, naming the very rocks on it; that I begin to think he smore that half night, and if so, he'll give us the sip the first moment that he can." "True, but I don't see that he can escape to:

night. A boat of marines will go with you, with orders to shoot any man that offers to stir. Let him go."

The officer bowed, shook his head; and retired. In a few moments the drums beat the marines to quarters, and the bugles at the several port-holes sounded the notes that call drist of various colors, white, red, chocolate and beat quick and hard as he listened to see if his boat would be called. Pre-ently its well-known notes were sounded, and he leaned towards; it; but a second thought checked him, and he put on an air as indifferent as possible.

The boats were let down and manned, and empty boats were in tow to bring off the cartle. With mulled oars they now moved towalds the shore, going west of the Black Boys, as Joe had advised. After landing as noiselessly as possible, the boats lay off a few rods from the shore, in the wells and springs.

with "a middy" and a few men in each. The water was still, but the night was profoundly dark. They had about a mile to go before they reached the house of the farm. Over a salt marsh and over little creeks, and over bars of sand, and through the stiff sedge grass, they went till they reached the house. . There were no signs of men, and the cattle were not in the barn-yard as they expected. It was now necessary to light their lantarns and On lighting the lautern the officer said, Jo: Strange, where is your hat, 5ir?"

"It was knocked off in the dark as we landed, sir, and I could not find it."

After searching all about the premises and finding no cattle, the officers began to storm and the men to swear in muttered tones. Just then in a small grove a little distance off, a cow-bell was heard to tinkle, and a creature to low. though to a practised ear, the lowing was not

"There they are now!" said one of the officors. "They are not, sir," said another; I have just been through that grove myself, and there are no cattle there." Again the cow-bell was heard to tinkle.

Joe waited no second bidding, but with a lantern in his hand, made for the grove. Scarce ly had be entered it before the flash and the roar of a gun was heard, and his light extin-

some way off, and they seemed in no hurry to enter the bushes. At length, however, they entered, expecting every moment to be fired upon, or at least to stumble over the dead body of Joe Strange; but they met with nothing except finding Joe's lantern, and near by it a huge cow-bell. Whether Joe was killed or carried off bodily they could not tell, but concluded there must be some Yankee trick about it. In moody silence, they turned and set the house and barn on fire, and then returned to their boats and to the ship to report; "No cattle found and one man lost." Whether to report Joe as killed, or made a prisoner, or a deserter, the officer was at a loss. [To be concluded.]

WHY PROPLE STAY HOME THIS SCHMER .- We clip the following spicy and judicious paragraph from the Springfield Republican:

"The tide of pleasure travel flows lazily this season. The cholera runs rampart over the his District in the Congressional Convention. country, and money is one per cent a month.-Relaxed bowels and a tightened purse keep people at home. Those who are not afraid of cholera are afraid of their creditors, and those who can look the latter boldly in the face, and slap their hands courageously on a well-filled waller, go into tremors over green apples, and shake their heads solemply as they put their hands on the lower abdomen. So between the lack of bowels of compassion in these times, and the superabundance of bowels of impassion in the plysical system, a good many people, to whom home is a stranger in July and August, are succossfully holding out in their own castles against the sheriff and the doctor. Happy for them it is so. Lucky if health and immunity are so easily purchased. Let them add a contented spirit. and they will taste of joys in the quiet circles of home that are strangers in the crowded and tel at a fashionable resort."

THE GULF OF BOTHNIA.—There is not an inchof the Gulf of Bothnia but we havec ressed over; it is a very strange place; the effect of the irregular refraction is very singular; the other morn ing we saw a lighthouse in the air, and on lookag at the chart it proved to be 50 or 60 miles Ships appear when they are nearly a day's sail from them, now with three hulls, now without sails, in a moment with a cloud of canvass, now turned upside down, and half a dozen ships are over the other, all as large as the bigest three-decker; when you come up with her she vithin a couple of degrees of the Artic circle; the sun does not set until 10 P. THE RESULT IN IOWA .- There is now no longer any room to doubt the complete success of the anti-Nebraska ticket in Iowa. A whig governor, two whig congressmen and an anti-Nebraska majority in both branches of the legislature, by which a United States senator is to be chosen, are the fruits of the victory. It is a result of more than ordinary importance. It is a forerunner of what may and must be accomplished in all the northern states. U. G. R. R.—That "cullud pusson" familiarly known to our citizens as "Doc," who has for some time past devoted his time and vocal talents to the service of the Rock River Hotel as porter and runner to the cars therefor, received on Monday last an intimation that all fugitive slaves stand on slippery places, and was advised to take passage on the above mentioned road, which we learn extends considerably further north than the Beloit and Madison-even to Her Majesty's dominions; and Humanity being conductor on it, "goods and chattels" have for some time been passed duty free into Canada, even before the late reciprocity treaty between the U. S. and Canada was confirmed. This furnishes another proof that humanity often anticipates legislation.

The "Doc" was not a man of brilliant parts, but he did what he could to make the under-standings of others shine. STREET AFFRAY .- Tom. Hood a self-nominated candidete for judge of this circuit, made a pugilistic attack upon C. D. Finch, this morning, on Fairchilds corner, on account of some reflections made upon the character of said Hood by Finch. To say nothing of the propriety of a candidate for judge fighting his way to an election, we think, in this instance, a cardidate would have more than he could do between this and election if he should attempt to chastise every man in community who regards him as a notorious gambler and a worthless character, besides having to "clean out" seweral grand juries in Ohio who have heretofore found indietments against him. We regret the necessity of having to deal with such characters, but while there are men in community, laying claims to respectability, who for their own purposes, seek to impose this man upon us, with righ judicial functions, we see no alternative.-Madleon Argus.

HISTORY.

Palvermachers' thain are presented to the public, as the most scientificand convenient mode of applying this powerful agent. They have been secured by patent in France, (where they were invented) England, Germany, Austria, Heighur, and one year since introduced into the United States, and also secured by patent. They are used in every Hospital in the State of New York, and highly recommended by professors Valentine Mott, Van Buren, Jost, Carnechan, of that city, who daily make use of them in their practice.

THE WORLD IS CHARLENGED to produce so many well authenticated certificates of care, not oily from intelligent patients, but from ectentific Physicians. The sale new in New York is perfectly ASTONSHING, and thousands who visit the Crystal Palace where they are on exhibition, seldom fail to obtain a claim before they leave the city.

Thanks be to the common sense of the people who are beginning to become disgusted with the practice of making a Drug Shop of their stomach—swallowing bottle after bottle of sickening, disgusting trash, having as more affect in even relieving, much less curing, the disease for which they are recommended, than a Poor Mari's Plaster applied to the top of the head would have in curing an infant of worms.

All those great and remarkable discoveries, by which every ill "which lissh is heir to" is eradicated from the cartif—strange as it may seem—are made by men who are too ignorant to obtain a living by any other mode, and their knowledge of discose, its proper made of cure, its cause, is just as extensive as an Arab's is of the mechanism of a steam engine. No intelligent person will seny the truth of this, and no Physician dare risk his reputation as an honest main, and declarsithat nervous discases are not more frequently increased in severity than interest, by the old antiquated way of gwing medicine into the stomach. If people will only become sensible and think for themselves, and believe that physicians practice upon their credulity more than they have any idea of, put strict attention to temperance in all things, (which means very much.) make free use of pure cold vater, internally and externally, with an occasional dash of song, sleep in freely ventilated rooms, retire early and rise early, be happy and cheerful, employ their physicians to tell them "they require no physic;"—by so doing health and happiness will fincrease, bottled molasses and water be at a discount, and its famous discoveres be consigned to their legitimate stations. and its famous discoverers be consigned to their legiti mate stations.

The Hydro-Electric chains are now for the first time offered to the people of Nashna, as being a better, quicker, and setter mode of curing all nervous diseases, than any other method or means hitherto discovered. They can be used by either agroup person or a child, are always ready for use, and with little care will last for years.

CAUTION.

Ladies who are encients, are requested not to wear them, for by long use, miscarriage is apt to be produced. Price of Chains, $3 to $5, and can be sent by mail Trice of Chains, 5-10 45, and can be sen by man to any part of the country, together with a pamphlet of 36 pages, containing the modes of use, certificates of cure, &c. KHER'S ROCK OIL,

PROM a Well 400 feet deep, Near Pittsburgh, Pra, is offered to the public as a Natural Medicine of no common value. It is a different thing from the old Kentneky or American Oil, as this is used INTERNALLY, is well as externally. As a heal remedy in Paralysis, Piles, Rhenmatism, Deafness, Loss of Sight, Barns, &c.
—also, as a valuable Internal Remody for Piles, Ague, Scrotha. Coughs, Diarrhosa, Erysipelas, old Sorcs, Eruptions of the Skin, Female Diseases, Worms, Bladder and Kidneys, Brouchitis, Pains &c. &c., it invites the investigating Physician, as well as the suffering patient, to become acquainted with its merits.

Discovered in 1349, it has within 2 or 3 years, made multitudes of cares, and multitudes of friends—and as soon as tried the Sales not only increase but hold out.
Testmony to its great merit is constantly accumulating in the hands of the proprietor by certificates, letters, and in other ways.

and in other ways.

IT DOCTORS THE WHOLE MAN—flesh and blood—skin and banes—from hend to faot—show it acts upon the system—mport disenses of different manifestations, we cannot fully tell. While it is both cultartic and astringent, it is Miterative—and mind you, a REGULATOR. A leading principle in it is Naphda. When you once have it in the family you will not be without it.

Full as the world is of Patent Medicines—it is thought not best to suppress this, the work of NATURE—to make room for Human insentions. Price 50 cents per bottle. It can be had of wholesaters at the large cities and towns in the West at Proprietor's prices.

ILYVE WE AGUE AMONG US?—A ten sponful every three hours in the absence of the fever will cure you of Ague or Diarrhora. Explosions, Druggists, and all friends of the afflicted, will do well to recommend this Oli for PROLAPSUS UTERI, and good will be done—take the usual dose 2 or 3 times a day, and bathe the lower part of the back with it. Have you SCROFULA? The Petroleum will eradicate it, root and branch, at little cost or inconvenience. Get chrollars of directions for adults and children, gratis of the agents. A trial is all we ask. Mind and get the right kind—it is of a beautiful redisial color and clear. Try it for Piles. For sale by HOLDEN KEMP & CO., C. F. Shones, Cary & Gordon, Beloit; G. W. TIIIS Company is one of the oldest, and among the most prudently and successfully conducted in the country. The primary object in conducting its business has been to provide perfect security under all conceivable circumstances, for the payment of its losses under its policies, and to return to the insured the surplus at stated periods, and strict econome is abserved. economy is observed.

Every insured person is a member of the company and shares in the profits of the business, and is subject to no liability or assessments beyond his premium.

The directors are required to be pecuniarily interest. ed in the company, and they give it their personal attention; and bonds of sufficient security are given by its officers for the faithful performance of their duties.

THIS Company continues to take risks upon L Farm Property only, consisting of hulldings of all kinds, (belonging to farmers,) household furniture, grain in barns, live steck, &c., from one to five years, at lower rates than most other responsible companies.
All losses promptly paid at the office as soon as proof

is made thereon. We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazard-ous than any other, consequently you will have no losses only your own of the same class, and all will be on an equal footing.

Experience has shown that two-thirds, if not threefourths of all the fires, that occur are upon stores, taverus; mills, shops and such like property. In this conpany all such property is rejected resittventy, by aut-Farmers, look to your own interest, and insure in a

PINE LUMBER.-Mr. Norris is now sawing about 10,000 feet of pine lumber, and when he gets his new mill done, will be able to saw 200,-000 per week. We have no means of ascertaining the extent of the demand, for this portion of the state, but it seems to us that the rate of supply mentioned above would be sufficient to supply the whole southern and south-western yart of Wisconsin, and a portion of northern Illinois, and there is no question but that it can be afforded as cheap here as at the lake ports.

HASTY RETREAT .- The Cvane arrived in Boston on Sunday, having on board Mr. Fabens, U. S. commercial agent at Greytown. This percipitate departure from the scene of the outrage is a fitting sequel to the cowardly attack upon San Juan. Was the commander afraid of meeting a British force more than "doubly equal" his own? So brave a man ought to have remained and seen the affair to an end. It would have occurred to almost any other officer in the service that the presence of an armed vessel in the waters of Nicaragua might be needed for the protection of the interests of American citizens, necessarily imperiled by the wanton destruction of the property of for-eigners at Greytown. Hollins' conduct appears to resemble that of the incendiary, who having fired a house, runs away to avoid the conse tuences. He may have acted under the orders of the navy department; but in that case we think he would have been excused if he had remained long enough to see what was to come of his exploit.—Buff. Com.

D. S. Rudock, editor of the New London Star, has been appointed surveyor of that port. The Star supported the Nebraska bill. Asthe salary of the office is $500, and as the Star is not much of a paper, the New Bedford Standard is inclined to think the administration has got the worst of the trade! This editor is the sixth in the state that has been appointed to office by this disinterested and discriminating administration, and these six patriots are the only zealous defenders of the eccentricities of their patrons, in the "land of steady habits."

HARD OF HEARING-Doing A Dun .- "I have a small bill against you," said the pertinacious collector, as he entered the store of one who had acquired the character of a hard customer. "Yes, sir, a very fine day, indeed," was the reply. "I am not speaking of the weather, but your bill," replied Peter, in a loud key. "It would be better if we had a little rain." "Confound the rain," continued the collector, and raising his voice: "Have you any money to pay on the bill?" "Beg your pardon, I'm hard of hearing; I have made it a rule not to lend my funds to strangers, and I really don't recognize you." "I am collector for the Philadelphia Daily Extinguisher, sir, and I have a bill against you," persisted the collector, at the top of his voice, producing the bill, and thrusting it into the face of his debtor. "I've determined to endorse for no one, you may put that note back in your pocket-book, I really can't endorse it." "Confound your endorsements-will you pay it?" "You will pay it no doubt sir; but there's always a risk about these matters you know, so I must decline it." "The money must be mine to-day." "Oh, yes, ninety days; but I would not enderse for you for a week; so clear out of my store. It's seldom that I'm pressed upon for an endorsement, even by my friends; on the part of a stranger, sir, such conduct is inexplicable. Do not force me to put you out; leave the premises." And the bill was returned to the Extinguisher office endorsed—"So confounded deaf that he could'nt understand."—Illustrated

Mr. Epiron:-In reply to the interrogatory of "Sand Bar," in the Daily Morning Advocate of "Band Bar," in the Daily Morning Advocate | I pint bottles. Also a fine assortment of liquor of the 11th inst., I would state, that in the month | FLASKS. (jy19) | HOLDEN, KEMP & Co. of October, 1852, I was in the office of Gen. Pierce, in Concord, New Hampshire, and had at that time a conversation with him in relation to appropriations by the general government for the improvement of western rivers and harbors. Taking a bound volume of printed speeches and letters in his hand, he turned to the letter of Silas Wright to the Chicago convention, and observed that the sentiments of that letter were his own; that he was not in favor of appropriations by the general government for the purpose of creating commerce in places where it did not exist, but wherever it did exist, it ought to be protected and encouraged, and that he had no more doubt of the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations by the general government for the improvement of western harbors and rivers than he had of the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations by the general government for the construction of light-houses and other similar objects on the Atlantic coast, and he added "I understand the letter of Silas Wright to the Chicago convention to be satisfactory to all western men." These are his statements as then made, and to show that I am not mistaken, I copy this statement of his, from a memorandum then made, at Gen. Pierce's own

suggestion.
Sand Bar, however, is mistaken as to my having performed a "pilgrimage" to see General Pierce in the year 1852.

I was formerly a resident of New Hampshire, and have relatives there, and on passing through Concord, on my return from visiting them, I met Gen. Pierce at the railroad depot and accompanied him to his office, being desirous of ascertaining precisely his views of appropriations for harbors and rivers, about which there were doubts in the minds of many democrats.

Yours, truly, W. E. WORDING. Aug. 12, 1854. -Racine Advocate,

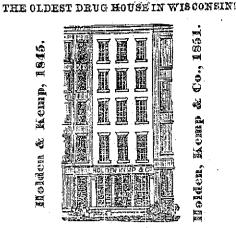

Humiliating Confession.—Wentworth says "Only four senators from the free states voted against the river and harbor improvement bill, and every one of them voted to repeal the Missouri compromise law.

When a northern man undertakes to go with the south, he has but little margin in which to be useful to his constituents. The more he does the more they exact." Humiliating as it is, it is nevertheless true that the more northern doughfaces do the more is exacted from them. Their noses are kept continually to the grindstone. They are not only called upon to pass fugitive slave laws, but unless they turn out in person to catch every figi-tive that comes along, they are denounced as abolitionists, and held up as willing to destroy the union. Like the daughters of the horse leech, the south are continually crying give! give!! and it is just such men as "affectionate Frank Pierce" that "acquiesce," aided and abetted by such immaculate follows as this same John Wentworth.—Chicago Journal.

"Sound the loud timbrel o'er land and o'er sea;" WHEELOCK'S triumphont, and ever shall be.

THIS is the middle of the nineteenth century, the first half of which has produced more change and onward movement than any fifty years of our Christian Era.

The great controlling power of this age is its commerce—indeed, this may be truly called the commercial age.

It has been well said by an ancient writer that "Man wants but little here below," and to supply those wants

You will ask how I can do this; I will tell you: From my long experience in this business, and being a practical Tailor, I know when, where and how to buy my Goods, what to pay for them, and how to cut them, not having to secure the services of an eminent artist, at a salary of $1,000 to $1,500 a year, which the purchaser must pay for—this is the secret. DOLDEN, REMP & Co. BY REV. JOHN TODD, D. D.

[To be concluded.] Harry Loomis was the son of a small but very intelligent farmer, who lived about four miles from the sea shore. Old Mr. Collins, a most guileless character, lived not far from him, and for nearly half a century the two families had been friends in close intimacy. Their children had been brought up together, and the ties of blood could hardly have made them dearer to each other. Joseph Collins, the younger son, had been gone for four years, during which time no tidings had been heard from him, except a the men to swear in muttered tones. Just then vague report that he had been impressed-into in a small grove a little distance off, a cow-bell the British pavy, and lately another report, that was heard to tinkle, and a creature to low. he was actually in some one of the ships which were hovering along our coasts. This last 'report had taken such hold upon Harvey Loomis, that he had determined to visit every ship in his power, under the pretence of selling them some " "They are not, sir," said another; I have thing. We have seen that he was successful in just been through that grove myself, and there his search.

About ten o'clock that morning, Harvey reached home, fatigued, yet greatly excited.-"Now Lucy, for some breakfast! I'm tited and hungry; und be quick, girl, for I must be off

can you want of it?" "To shake and keep myself from seeing ghosts

in the dark!" :. Harvey was soon equipped, and putting the remains of his breakfast into his pocket, he once more left his father's house without speaking to sound. On three sides it was bounded by water. It was a large dairy farm, well stocked, and easily enriched by the help of sea-weed which the winds and the waves brought up to the beach very frequently. The house was lately abandoned by the inhabitants for fear of the enemy, and the cattle were driven away the day before by miles from Harvey's home. - Towards this farm he new bent his steps. It was several miles from any other house. When he had come within two or three miles of the farm, he met Abel, an honest-black man, well known and highly esteemed. He was driving a long team of ozen.

"To the doctor, he? Well, I have a notion in my head. I want to hire you and that team till the sun is about an hour high. What will you go for i'' "What to do?"

"No matter... Nothing very hard. It's a secret though, and it must be a part of the bargain that you never tell what you do for me. Here are two silver dollars, and they are yours if you

The negro turned his team about and went with Harrey. When they had reached the deacon's farm, Harvey made him unyoke the team and let the oxen feed in plain sight of the ship. After wandering about for an hour or two, they were then again yoked, and Abel, grinning over his two dollars, was on his way home to the doctor's. He wondered if Harvey Loomis was erazy! "Two dollars paid to see some cuttle! He go in the house and look out the window to

And if so, how shall I know him in the dark, and shall I separate him from the rest? I can hardly sec."

.. After sunset there was a movement on board of the ship, the lieutenants conversed together, and the midshipmen swelled and walked stiffer than common, though they knew not why.

"Send Joe Strange aft," said the officer of the

deck; and he soon appeared.
"Strange, do you think our boats can land

keenly did he fix his eye on Joe's face, but Joe stood the shot unmoved. Again bending a sharp look on him he said, "Joe, after dark we are ordered to land and bring in those cattlewould you like to go?"

In a few moments the drums beat the marines to quarters, and the bugles at the several port-holes sounded the notes that called each boat's company: The heart of Joe Strange beat quick and hard as he listened to see if his boat would be called. Presently its well-known on an air as ind figrent as possible.

with "a middy" and a few men in each. The water was still, but the night was profoundly dark. They had about a mile to go before they reached the house of the farm. Over a salt marsh and over little creeks, and over bars of sand, and through the stiff sedge grass, they want till they reached the house.

There were no signs of men, and the cattle were not in the barn-yard as they expected. It was now necessary to light their lanterns and search. Our lighting the lantern the officer said, Job Strange, where is your hat, sir ?"

"It was knocked off in the dark as we landed, sir, and I could not find It."

After searching all about the premises and finding no cattle, the officers began to storm and though to a practised car, the lowing was not exactly herd-like.

"There they are now!" said one of the offi-

are no cattle there."

Again the cow-bell was heard to tinkle. Joe waited no second bidding, but with a lantern in his hand, made for the grove. Sea cely had he entered it before the flash and the roar of a gun was heard, and his light extinguished. .

"Forward there, marines," cried the commander of the expedition. But the marines were some way off, and they seemed in no hurry to enter the bushes. At length, however, they entered, expecting every moment to be fired upon, or at least to stumble over the dead body of Joe Strange; but they met with nothing except finding Joe's lantern, and near by it a linge cow-bell. Whether Joe was killed or carried off hodily they could not tell, but concluded there must be some Yankee trick about it. In pale face went about getting Harvey's breakfast.
When It was ready, he said, "I am in a great hurry, Lucy, and I wish you would get me the boats and to the ship to report: "No cattle boats and to the ship to report; "No cattle found and one man lost." Whether to report Joe as killed, or made a prisoner, or a deserter, the officer was at a loss.

Why People Stay Home this Summer.—We clip the following spicy and judicious paragraph from the Springfield Republican: 📑 "The tide of pleasure travel flows lazily this season. The cholera runs campart over the a point of land which projected out into the | country, and money is one per cent a month .-Relaxed bowels and a tightened purse keep people at home. Those who are not afraid of cholera are afiaid of their creditors, and those who can look the latter boldly in the face, and slap their hands courageously on a well-filled wallet, go into tremors over green apples, and shake their heads solemnly as they put their hands on the advice of Harvey. This farm was full eight | the lower abdomen. So between the lack of bowels of compassion in these times, and the superabundance of bowels of impassion in the physical system, a good many people, to whom home is a stranger in July and August, are successfully holding out in their own castles against the sheriff and the doctor. Happy for them it is so. Lucky if health and immunity are so easily purchased. Let them add a contented spirit, and they will taste of joys in the quiet circles of home that are strangers in the crowded and heated and dusty rail-car, and in the cribbed, cabined, confined quarters of a fashionable hotel at a fashionable resort." -

THE GULF OF BOTHNIA. - There is not an inch of the Gulf of Bothnia but we have crossed over; it is a very strange place; the effect of the irregular refraction is very singular; the other morning we saw a lighthouse in the air, and on looking at the chart it proved to be 50 or 60 miles off. Ships appear when they are nearly a day's sail from them, now with three hulls, now without sails, in a moment with a cloud of canvass, now turned upside down, and half a dozen ships are over the other, all as large as the bigest three-decker; when you come up with her she is some insignificant little coaster. We are within a couple of degrees of the Artic encle; the sun does not set until 10 P. M., and he raises about 2. We have broad day light all the time he is below the horizon. We are going up to the head of the gulf, and when there we shall see the sun at midnight. - [Letter from an officer in the Napier fleet.

INOCULATION FOR CHOLERA. - Inoculation with "austic issues," now creating so much excitement and wonder among the medical savans of Europe and the United States from the simplicity of its character, was not discovered by a distinguished Berlin physician, but by an America i physician who is extensively known in this country. It was sent by him to the leading minds of this country and Europe as far back as 1817, and is gradually being tried as a successful and practical experiment since then. It is now seeking its way into the Prussian and Russian armies, and ere long will no doubt be introduced into Austria, France and England. It will extend itself with electrical effect over the world as the opposite of vaccination, entirely neutralizing another pestilence. It is noticed by physicians as a singular fact, that small pox precedes and succeeds this Asiatic cholera. The late Russian minister, Bodisco, introduced it to the attention of the Emperor of Russia, a year prior to his demise. As a successful experiment, it is now showing itself in practical illustrations of its preventive power, in isolated instances over this country. and will, no doubt hereafter become a fixed fact. This simple process will, when introduced, be the means of saving large sums to European governments, together with the lives of their soldiers. The discoverer receives a reward, so noticed by European presses, diplomas from each of the universities, together with jewels taken from the crown of each monarch. The prizes through all Eupope, offered since 1819 for an "absolute and reliable preventive" of this pestilence, and that have been accumulating since 1810, amount to the sum of £148,

The prizes are to be awarded by Napoleon III., subject to the decision of the Royal academy of medicine, Paris .- Alb. Argus.

About a year and a half since, some persons in searching at West Milford, Passaic Co., N. J. for iron ore, came across a bed of clay, with the nature of which they were unacquainted .-Until recently it has not been improved, on account of ignorance of its value; but a scientific investigation has revealed the fact that it is Koalin, an exceedingly valuable porcelain clay, which is quite scarce. It can be used in the manufacture of porcelain ware, tiles, fire brick, the glazing of cards, soap paint, etc. The deposit at West Milford is of the purest kind. It is of various colors, white, red, chocolate and

THE RESULT IN IOWA .- There is now no longer any 100m to doubt the complete success of the anti-Nebraska ticket in Iowa. A whig'governor, two whig congressmen and an anti-Nebraska majority in both branches of the legislature, by which a United States senator is the chosen, are the fruits of the victory. It is aresult of more than ordinary importance. It is a forerunner of what may and must be acconplished in all the northern states. Strongly denocratic, and naturally proslavery, the most that could be felt in other states, was a hope that the opponents of the Nebraska law might succoed in Iowa, but it was hoping against hope, and those interested in other states, would have compromised, before the event, for only partial success. How agreeably are they surprised by the complete and overwhelming victory of our gallant friends in that state. Let this encourage our friends in all the other states. No state has been more hopelessly democratic than Iowa; no state in which a democratic defeat might have been less confidently predicted. But she leads the van in a glorious triumph; let her sister states promptly sustain her when it shall be their time to come into line of battle.

The Madison Journal publishes an amusing account of a meeting of the "glorious demociacy" at that place, for the purpose of choosing delegates to the democratic county convention. A commendable interest was shown in the matter, as was evinced by the fact that 500 votes were cast; just about the entire democratic vote. One man, as frequently happens at such gatherings, got over patriotic. The Jour-

We saw the constables marching off one devotee of the great party in the direction of the juil. He had got drunk on the glorious occasion, went into Mr. Honn's store, was unpleasantly noisy, and was unceremoniously pitched out upon the sidewalk. He was earnestly entreating Mr. Houn to "do it again" when Messrs. Welch and Roundy interfered, and he was obliged to pass the night in inglorious confine-

A Chance for a nice speculation over-LOOKED .- On the 6th day of September, 1845, J. M. Burgess, esq., of this city, advertised in the Cazette, the following property for sale; "Twenty-one village lots, most of them eight rods square, and on which there is a very confortable house sixteen by twenty-eight feet, a good well of water and a large garden well fented; also, five acres adjoining, the village plat under fence; also one hundred and sixty acreof prairie, lying on the road from Janesville to Waterloo, three miles from Janesville." . Will any of our city readers venture to set the price asked for this property without its finding a purchaser? No one will: be likely to set if low enough. It. was . just' seven hundred dollars, cash down! For the curiosity of the thing, we should like to see a fair estimate taken of this same property now, exclusive of any improvements that may have been put upon it since. The ratio of increase would be very great.

Cay Daniel Mitchell, formerly a barber in Beloit, but more recently of Baraboo, has been held to bail in the sum of $100 for stealing a gold watch of M. W. Jenks of Beloit, in June last. Jenks was exhibiting the watch among a party of friends at the Beloit house, and saw no more of it until it was recently discovered in the hands of Mitchell. In default of procuring bail, he has been committed to jail to await his trial at the next term of the circuit court. The Beloit Journal, after stating the above facts, ly known to our citizens as "Doc," who has for some time past devoted his time and vocal talents to the service of the Rock River Hotel as porter and runner to the cars therefor, received on Morday last an intimation that all fugitive slaves stand on slippery places, and was advised to take passage on the above mentioned road. which we learn extends considerably further north than the Beloit and Madison-even to Her Majesty's dominions; and Humanity being confuctor on it, "goods and chattels" have for sonje time been passed duty free into Canada, evin before the late reciprocity treaty between the U. S. and Canada was confirmed. This furnales another proof that humanity often anticipites legislation.

The "Doc" was not a man of brilliant parts. but he did what he could to make the understandings of others shine. His powers of permeet in their respective assembly districts and select |suasion were remarkable, his emphatic invitatwo delegates from each to represent them in a con- tion, " right this way for the Rock River hotel," gressional convention to be held at Mineral Point on seldom being disregarded. STREET AFFRAY .- Tom. Hood a self-nominated candidete for judge of this circuit, made a pugilistic attack upon C. D. Finch, this moraing, on Fairchilds corner, on account of some reflections made upon the character of said Hood by Finch. To say nothing of the propriety of a candidate for judge fighting his way to an election, we think, in this instance, a candidate would have more than he could do between them in the Congressional Convention called at Amerat | this and election if he should attempt to chastise every man in community who regards him as a notorious gambler and a worthless character, besides having to "clean out" seweral grand juries in Ohio who have heretofore found indietments against him. HOLDEN, KEMP & CO.

[To be concluded.]

Harry Loomis was the son of a small but very intelligent farmer, who lived about four miles from the sea shore. Old Mr. Collins, a most guileless character, lived not far from him, and for nearly half a century the two families had been friends in close intimacy. Their children had been brought up together, and the ties of blood could hardly have made them dearer to each other. Joseph Collins, the younger son, had been gone for four years, during which time no tidings had been heard from him, except a the men to swear in muttered tones. Just then vague report that he had been impressed-into in a small grove a little distance off, a cow-bell the British pavy, and lately another report, that was heard to tinkle, and a creature to low. he was actually in some one of the ships which were hovering along our coasts. This last 'report had taken such hold upon Harvey Loomis, that he had determined to visit every ship in his power, under the pretence of selling them some " "They are not, sir," said another; I have thing. We have seen that he was successful in just been through that grove myself, and there his search.

About ten o'clock that morning, Harvey reached home, fatigued, yet greatly excited.-"Now Lucy, for some breakfast! I'm tited and hungry; und be quick, girl, for I must be off

"What in the world are you doing, Harvey! This is something new for you! You were never out night after night before! Mother is distressed about it, and so am I. Do tell us what it means?" with

"All in due time, sis. You must know I am hunting raccoons, and you know they are to be eaught in the night." "And did you want me to fix that apple so nice for bait ? "No, I gave it to your sweatheart!"

Poor Lucy blushed, then sighed, and with a pale face went about getting Harvey's breakfast.
When It was ready, he said, "I am in a great hurry, Lucy, and I wish you would get me the boats and to the ship to report: "No cattle great cow-bell, and the powder horn." "Are you crazy, Harvey? the cow-bell! what can you want of it?" "To shake and keep myself from seeing ghosts

in the dark!" :. Harvey was soon equipped, and putting the remains of his breakfast into his pocket, he once more left his father's house without speaking to any one clse. Deacon Mayo's farm was at the extremity of sound. On three sides it was bounded by water. It was a large dairy farm, well stocked, and easily enriched by the help of sea-weed which the winds and the waves brought up to the beach very frequently. The house was lately abandoned by the inhabitants for fear of the enemy, and the cattle were driven away the day before by miles from Harvey's home. - Towards this farm he new bent his steps. It was several miles from any other house. When he had come within two or three miles of the farm, he met Abel, an honest-black man, well known and highly esteemed. He was driving a long team of ozen.

"Well, Abel, a fine team that. To whom does it belong?" "To the doctor."

"To the doctor, he? Well, I have a notion in my head. I want to hire you and that team till the sun is about an hour high. What will you go for i'' "What to do?"

"No matter... Nothing very hard. It's a secret though, and it must be a part of the bargain that you never tell what you do for me. Here are two silver dollars, and they are yours if you

The negro turned his team about and went with Harrey. When they had reached the deacon's farm, Harvey made him unyoke the team and let the oxen feed in plain sight of the ship. After wandering about for an hour or two, they were then again yoked, and Abel, grinning over his two dollars, was on his way home to the doctor's. He wondered if Harvey Loomis was erazy! "Two dollars paid to see some cuttle! He go in the house and look out the window to ace me drive the cattle about! He! he! he!"

After Abel was gone, and Harvey was conce more alone, he said, speaking and thinking aloud, "I think the trap is well baited now, and I think they will come; but will Joseph come? And if so, how shall I know him in the dark, and shall I separate him from the rest? I can hardly sec."

.. After sunset there was a movement on board of the ship, the lieutenants conversed together, and the midshipmen swelled and walked stiffer than common, though they knew not why.

"Send Joe Strange aft," said the officer of the

deck; and he soon appeared.
"Strange, do you think our boats can land near yonder point?"

"Your honor knows best, but I should think they might." "Where would you land, if you had the responsibility ?"

"A little west of the Black Boys, which you see in the range of that hill."

. "I see them; but pray sir, how did you know the name of those five rocks?" Joe multered something about having heard

Harvey, the apple-seller, call them by that name. "Why, Joe, you seem to know every rock, and island; and creek, on this coast. How came you to be so great a Judge in these matters?" " Common sense, sir, and having spent my boyhood on a coast something like this."

"Very like, I have suspected as much," and keenly did he fix his eye on Joe's face, but Joe stood the shot unmoved. Again bending a sharp look on him he said, "Joe, after dark we are ordered to land and bring in those cattle-

"When not?"

"Why not?" Because sir, he has always claimed to be an American, and Jins shown so much knowledge of this coast, finding the very rocks on it, that I begin to think he's more that half right, and if so, he'll give us the slip the first moment that

"True, bitt-Light tree that he can escape to night. A boat of marines will go with you, with orders to shoot any man that offers to stir.

· The officer bowed, shook his head, and retired. In a few moments the drums beat the marines to quarters, and the bugles at the several port-holes sounded the notes that called each boat's company: The heart of Joe Strange beat quick and hard as he listened to see if his boat would be called. Presently its well-known notes were sounded, and he leaned towards it; know nothings of Massachusetts held a full and but a second thought checked him, and he .pnt spirited convention in Boston. Delegates from on an air as ind figrent as possible.

.The boats were let down and manned, and

with "a middy" and a few men in each. The water was still, but the night was profoundly dark. They had about a mile to go before they reached the house of the farm. Over a salt marsh and over little creeks, and over bars of sand, and through the stiff sedge grass, they want till they reached the house.

There were no signs of men, and the cattle were not in the barn-yard as they expected. It was now necessary to light their lanterns and search. Our lighting the lantern the officer said, Job Strange, where is your hat, sir ?" "It was knocked off in the dark as we landed, sir, and I could not find It." After searching all about the premises and finding no cattle, the officers began to storm and are no cattle there." Again the cow-bell was heard to tinkle.

Joe waited no second bidding, but with a lantern in his hand, made for the grove. Sea cely had he entered it before the flash and the roar of a gun was heard, and his light extinguished. .

"Forward there, marines," cried the commander of the expedition. But the marines were some way off, and they seemed in no hurry to enter the bushes. At length, however, they entered, expecting every moment to be fired upon, or at least to stumble over the dead body of Joe Strange; but they met with nothing except finding Joe's lantern, and near by it a linge cow-bell. Whether Joe was killed or carried off hodily they could not tell, but concluded there must be some Yankee trick about it. In boats and to the ship to report; "No cattle found and one man lost." Whether to report Joe as killed, or made a prisoner, or a deserter, the officer was at a loss.

To be concluded.?

Why People Stay Home this Summer.—We clip the following spicy and judicious paragraph from the Springfield Republican: 📑

"The tide of pleasure travel flows lazily this season. The cholera runs campart over the a point of land which projected out into the | country, and money is one per cent a month .-Relaxed bowels and a tightened purse keep people at home. Those who are not afraid of cholera are afiaid of their creditors, and those who can look the latter boldly in the face, and slap their hands courageously on a well-filled wallet, go into tremors over green apples, and shake their heads solemnly as they put their hands on the advice of Harvey. This farm was full eight | the lower abdomen. So between the lack of bowels of compassion in these times, and the superabundance of bowels of impassion in the physical system, a good many people, to whom home is a stranger in July and August, are successfully holding out in their own castles against the sheriff and the doctor. Happy for them it is so. Lucky if health and immunity are so easily purchased. Let them add a contented spirit, and they will taste of joys in the quiet circles of home that are strangers in the crowded and heated and dusty rail-car, and in the cribbed, cabined, confined quarters of a fashionable hotel at a fashionable resort." -

THE GULF OF BOTHNIA. - There is not an inch of the Gulf of Bothnia but we have crossed over; it is a very strange place; the effect of the irregular refraction is very singular; the other morning we saw a lighthouse in the air, and on looking at the chart it proved to be 50 or 60 miles off. Ships appear when they are nearly a day's sail from them, now with three hulls, now without sails, in a moment with a cloud of canvass, now turned upside down, and half a dozen ships are over the other, all as large as the bigest three-decker; when you come up with her she is some insignificant little coaster. We are within a couple of degrees of the Artic encle; the sun does not set until 10 P. M., and he raises about 2. We have broad day light all the time he is below the horizon. We are going up to the head of the gulf, and when there we shall see the sun at midnight. - [Letter from an officer in the Napier fleet.

INOCULATION FOR CHOLERA. - Inoculation with "austic issues," now creating so much excitement and wonder among the medical savans of Europe and the United States from the simplicity of its character, was not discovered by a distinguished Berlin physician, but by an America i physician who is extensively known in this country. It was sent by him to the leading minds of this country and Europe as far back as 1817, and is gradually being tried as a successful and practical experiment since then. It is now seeking its way into the Prussian and Russian armies, and ere long will no doubt be introduced into Austria, France and England. It will extend itself with electrical effect over the world as the opposite of vaccination, entirely neutralizing another pestilence. It is noticed by physicians as a singular fact, that small pox precedes and succeeds this Asiatic cholera. The late Russian minister, Bodisco, introduced it to the attention of the Emperor of Russia, a year prior to his demise. As a successful experiment, it is now showing itself in practical illustrations of its preventive power, in isolated instances over this country. and will, no doubt hereafter become a fixed fact. This simple process will, when introduced, be the means of saving large sums to European governments, together with the lives of their soldiers. The discoverer receives a reward, so noticed by European presses, diplomas from each of the universities, together with jewels taken from the crown of each monarch. The prizes through all Eupope, offered since 1819 for an "absolute and reliable preventive" of this pestilence, and that have been accumulating since 1810, amount to the sum of £148,

The prizes are to be awarded by Napoleon III., subject to the decision of the Royal academy of medicine, Paris .- Alb. Argus.

About a year and a half since, some persons in searching at West Milford, Passaic Co., N. J. for iron ore, came across a bed of clay, with the nature of which they were unacquainted .-Until recently it has not been improved, on account of ignorance of its value; but a scientific investigation has revealed the fact that it is Koalin, an exceedingly valuable porcelain clay, which is quite scarce. It can be used in the manufacture of porcelain ware, tiles, fire brick, the glazing of cards, soap paint, etc. The deposit at West Milford is of the purest kind. It is of various colors, white, red, chocolate and

THE RESULT IN IOWA .- There is now no longer any 100m to doubt the complete success of the anti-Nebraska ticket in Iowa. A whig'governor, two whig congressmen and an anti-Nebraska majority in both branches of the legislature, by which a United States senator is the chosen, are the fruits of the victory. It is aresult of more than ordinary importance. It is a forerunner of what may and must be acconplished in all the northern states. Strongly denocratic, and naturally proslavery, the most that could be felt in other states, was a hope that the opponents of the Nebraska law might succoed in Iowa, but it was hoping against hope, and those interested in other states, would have compromised, before the event, for only partial success. How agreeably are they surprised by the complete and overwhelming victory of our gallant friends in that state. Let this encourage our friends in all the other states. No state has been more hopelessly democratic than Iowa; no state in which a democratic defeat might have been less confidently predicted. But she leads the van in a glorious triumph; let her sister states promptly sustain her when it shall be their time to come into line of battle.

The Madison Journal publishes an amusing account of a meeting of the "glorious demociacy" at that place, for the purpose of choosing delegates to the democratic county convention. A commendable interest was shown in the matter, as was evinced by the fact that 500 votes were cast; just about the entire democratic vote. One man, as frequently happens at such gatherings, got over patriotic. The Jour-

We saw the constables marching off one devotee of the great party in the direction of the juil. He had got drunk on the glorious occasion, went into Mr. Honn's store, was unpleasantly noisy, and was unceremoniously pitched out upon the sidewalk. He was earnestly entreating Mr. Houn to "do it again" when Messrs. Welch and Roundy interfered, and he was obliged to pass the night in inglorious confine-

A Chance for a nice speculation over-LOOKED .- On the 6th day of September, 1845, J. M. Burgess, esq., of this city, advertised in the Cazette, the following property for sale; "Twenty-one village lots, most of them eight rods square, and on which there is a very confortable house sixteen by twenty-eight feet, a good well of water and a large garden well fented; also, five acres adjoining, the village plat under fence; also one hundred and sixty acreof prairie, lying on the road from Janesville to Waterloo, three miles from Janesville." . Will any of our city readers venture to set the price asked for this property without its finding a purchaser? No one will: be likely to set if low enough. It. was . just' seven hundred dollars, cash down! For the curiosity of the thing, we should like to see a fair estimate taken of this same property now, exclusive of any improvements that may have been put upon it since. The ratio of increase would be very great.

Cay Daniel Mitchell, formerly a barber in Beloit, but more recently of Baraboo, has been held to bail in the sum of $100 for stealing a gold watch of M. W. Jenks of Beloit, in June last. Jenks was exhibiting the watch among a party of friends at the Beloit house, and saw no more of it until it was recently discovered in the hands of Mitchell. In default of procuring bail, he has been committed to jail to await his trial at the next term of the circuit court. The Beloit Journal, after stating the above facts,

U. G. R.—That "cullud pusson" familiar- THE ALGERINE CHILDREN ly known to our citizens as "Doc," who has for some time past devoted his time and vocal talents to the service of the Rock River Hotel as porter and runner to the cars therefor, received on Morday last an intimation that all fugitive slaves stand on slippery places, and was advised to take passage on the above mentioned road. which we learn extends considerably further north than the Beloit and Madison-even to Her Majesty's dominions; and Humanity being confuctor on it, "goods and chattels" have for sonje time been passed duty free into Canada, evin before the late reciprocity treaty between the U. S. and Canada was confirmed. This furnales another proof that humanity often anticipites legislation.

The "Doc" was not a man of brilliant parts. but he did what he could to make the understandings of others shine. STREET AFFRAY .- Tom. Hood a self-nominated candidete for judge of this circuit, made a pugilistic attack upon C. D. Finch, this moraing, on Fairchilds corner, on account of some reflections made upon the character of said Hood by Finch. To say nothing of the propriety of a candidate for judge fighting his way to an election, we think, in this instance, a candidate would have more than he could do between them in the Congressional Convention called at Amerat | this and election if he should attempt to chastise every man in community who regards him as a notorious gambler and a worthless character, besides having to "clean out" seweral grand juries in Ohio who have heretofore found indietments against him. We regret the necessity of having to deal with such characters, but while there are men in community, laying claims to respectability, who for their own purposes, seek to impose this man upon us, with high judicial functions, we see no alternative.— Madison Argus.

Pine Lumben .-- Mr. Norris is now sawing about 10,000 feet of pine lumber, and when he gets his new mill done, will be able to saw 200.4 000 per week. We have no means of ascertaining the extent of the demand, for this portion of the state, but it seems to us that the rate of supply mentioned above would be sufficient to supply the whole southern and south-western yart of Wisconsin, and a portion of northern Illinois, and there is no question but that it can be afforded as cheap here as at the lake ports.

HASTY RETREAT.—The Cyane arrived in Boston on Sunday, having on board Mr. Fabens, U. S. commercial agent at Greytown. This percipitate departure from the scene of the outruge is a fitting sequel to the cowardly attack upon San Juan. Was the commander afraid of meeting a British force more than "doubly equal" his own? So brave a man ought to have remained and seen the affair to an end. It would have occurred to almost any other officer in the service that the presence of an armed | Making our Stock complete in every department, vessel in the waters of Nicaragua might be needed for the protection of the interests of American citizens, mecessarily imperiled by the wanton destruction of the property of foreigners at Greytown. The Star supported the Nebraska bill. As the salary of the office is $500, and as the Star is not much of a paper, the New Bedford Standard is inclined to think the administration has got the worst of the trade! This editor is the sixth in the state that has been appointed to office by this disinterested and discriminating administration, and these six patriots are the only zealous defenders of the eccentricities of their patrons, in the "land of steady liabits."

HARD OF HEARING-Doing A Dun.-"I have a small bill against you," said the pertinacious collector, as he entered the store of one who had acquired the character of a hard customer. "Yes, sir, a very fine day, indeed," was the reply. "I am not speaking of the weather, but your bill," replied Peter, in a loud key. "It would be better if we had a little rain." "Confound the rain," continued the collector, and raising his voice: "Have you any money to pay on the bill?" "Beg your pardon, I'm hard of hearing; I have made it a rule not to lend YOU," persisted the collector at the top of his voice, producing the bill, and thrusting it into relorgallon. the face of his debtor. "I've determined to endorse for no one, you may put that note back in your pocket-book, I really can't endorse it." "Confound your endorsements-will you pay it?" "You will pay it no doubt sir; but there's always a risk about these matters you know, so I must decline it." "The money must be mine to-day." "Oh, yes, ninety days; but I would not endorse for you for a week; so clear out of my store. It's seldom that I'm pressed upon for an endorsement, even by my friends; on the part of a stranger, sir, such conduct is inexplicable. Do not force me to put you out; leave the premises." And the bill was returned to the Extinguisher office endorsed—"So confounded deaf that he could'nt understand."-Illustrated

Ma. Entron:-In reply to the interrogatory of "Sand Bar," in the Daily Morning Advocate of the 11th inst., I would state, that in the mouth | FLASES. of October, 1852, I was in the office of Gen. Pierce, in Concord, New Hampshire, and had at that time a conversation with him in relation to appropriations by the general government for the improvement of western rivers and harbors. Taking a bound volume of printed speeches and letters in his hand, he turned to the letter of Silas Wright to the Chicago convention, and observed that the sentiments of that letter were his own; that he was not in favor of appropriations by the general government for the purpose of creating commerce in places where it did not exist, but wherever it did exist, it ought to be protected and encouraged, and that he had no more doubt of the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations by the general government for the improvement of western harbors and rivers than he had of the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations by the general government for the construction of light-houses and other similar objects on the Atlantic coast, and he added " I understand the letter of Silas Wright to the Chicago convention to be satisfactory to all western men." These are his statements as then made, and to show that I am not mistaken, I copy this statement of his, from a memorandum then made, at Gen. Pierce's own

Sand Bar, however, is mistaken as to my having performed a "pilgrimage" to see General Pierce in the year 1852.

'I was formerly a resident of New Hampshire, and have relatives there, and on passing through Concord, on my return from visiting them, I met Gen. Pierce at the railroad depot and accompanied him to his office, being desirous of ascertaining precisely his views of appropriations for harbors and rivers, about which there were doubts in the minds of many democrats.

Yours, truly, W. E. WORDING. Aug. 12, 1854. -Racine Advocate.

We have no means of ascertaining the extent of the demand, for this portion of the state, but it seems to us that the rate of supply mentioned above would be sufficient to supply the whole southern and south-western yart of Wisconsin, and a portion of northern Illinois, and there is no question but that it can be afforded as cheap here as at the lake ports.

HASTY RETREAT.—The Cyane arrived in Boston on Sunday, having on board Mr. Fabens, U. S. commercial agent at Greytown. This percipitate departure from the scene of the outruge is a fitting sequel to the cowardly attack upon San Juan. Was the commander afraid of meeting a British force more than "doubly equal" his own? So brave a man ought to have remained and seen the affair to an end. It would have occurred to almost any other officer vessel in the waters of Nicaragua might be needed for the protection of the interests of American citizens, mecessarily imperiled by the wanton destruction of the property of foreigners at Greytown. Holling conduct appears chants wishing to replenish their stock of to resemble that of the incendiary, who having fired a house, runs away to avoid the consequences. "I am not speaking of the weather, but your bill," replied Peter, in a loud key. "It would be better if we had a little rain." "Confound the rain," continued the collector, and raising his voice: "Have you any money to pay on the bill?" Ma. Entron:-In reply to the interrogatory of "Sand Bar," in the Daily Morning Advocate of the 11th inst., I would state, that in the mouth | FLASES. of October, 1852, I was in the office of Gen. Pierce, in Concord, New Hampshire, and had at that time a conversation with him in relation to appropriations by the general government for the improvement of western rivers and harbors. Taking a bound volume of printed speeches and letters in his hand, he turned to the letter of Silas Wright to the Chicago convention, and observed that the sentiments of that letter were his own; that he was not in favor of appropriations by the general government for the purpose of creating commerce in places where it did not exist, but wherever it did exist, it ought to be protected and encouraged, and that he had no more doubt of the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations by the general governand rivers than he had of the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations by the general and other similar objects on the Atlantic coast, and he added " I understand the letter of Silas Wright to the Chicago convention to be satisfactory to all western men." These are his statements as then made, and to show that I am not mistaken, I copy this statement of his, from a memorandum then made, at Gen. Pierce's own

'I was formerly a resident of New Hampshire, and have relatives there, and on passing through Concord, on my return from visiting them, I met Gen. BY REV. JOHN TODD, D. D. [To be concluded.]

Harry Loomis was the son of a small but very intelligent farmer, who lived about four miles from the sea shore. Old Mr. Collins, a most guileless character, lived not far from him, and for nearly half a century the two families had been friends in close lutimacy. Their children had been brought up together, and the ties of blood could hardly have made them dearer to each other. Joseph Collins, the younger son, had been gone for four years, during which time no tidings had been heard from him, except a vague report that he had been impressed-into the British pavy, and lately another report, that he was actually in some one of the ships which were hovering along our coasts. This last report had taken such hold upon Harvey Loomis, that he had determined to visit every ship in his power, under the pretence of selling them some thing. We have seen that he was successful in

About ten o'clock that morning, Harvey reached home, fatigued, yet greatly excited. "Now Lucy, for some breakfast! I'm thed and hungry; and be quick, girl, for I must be off

This is something new for you! You were never out night after night before! Mother is distressed about it, and so am I. Do tell us what it means?" "All in due time, sis. You must know I am hunting raccoons, and you know they are to be eaught in-the night."

Poor Lucy blushed, then sighed, and with a pale face went about getting Harvey's breakfast.

When it was ready, he said, "I am in a great hunry, Lucy, and I wish you would get me the great cow-bell, and the powder horn." "Are you grazy, Harvey? the cow-bell! what, can you want of it?"

"To shake and keep myself from seeing ghosts

Harvey was soon equipped, and putting the remains of his breakfast into his pocket, he once

Deacon Mayo's farm was at the extremity of a point of land which projected out into the round. On three sides it was bounded by water. It was a large dairy farm, well stocked, and easily enriched by the help of sea-weed which the winds and the waves brought up to the beach very frequently. The house was lately abandoued by the inhabitants for fear of the enemy, and the cattle were driven away the day before by the advice of Harvey. This farm was full eight miles from Harvey's home. Towards this farm he now bent his steps. It was several miles from any other house. When he had come within two or three miles of the farm, he met Abel, an honest black man, well known and highly esteemed. He was driving a long team of ozen.

"Well, Abel, a fine term that. To whom does it belong?" "To the doctor."

"To the doctor, he? Well, I have a notion in my head. I want to hire you and that team till the sun is about an hour high. What will you go for?"
"What to do?"

with Harvey. When they had reached the deacon's farm; Harvey made him unyoke the team see me drive the cattle about! He! he! he! After Abel was gone, and Harvey was lonce

"I see them; but pray sir, how did you know the name of those five rocks?"

Joe muttered something about having heard Harvey, the apple-seller, call them by that name. "Why, Joe, you seem to know every rock, and island, and creek, on this coast. How came you to be so great a judge in these matters?"

keenly did he fix his eye on Joe's face, but Joe stood the shot unmoved. Again bending a sharp look on him he said, "Joe, after dark we are ordered to land and bring in those cattlewould you like to go?"

"I should like to do as the boat to which I allow him to go, sir?"

"Why not?"
"Because, sir, he has always claimed to be an American, and has shown so much knowledge of this coast, haming the very rocks on it, that I begin to think he's more that half right, and it'so, ho'll give us the slip the first moment that

"True, but lalop't age that he can escape tonight. A boat of marines will go with you, with orders to shoot any man that offers to stir.

Let him go."
The officer bowed, shook his head, and rethed. In a few moments the drums beat the marines to quarters, and the bugles at the several port-holes sounded the notes that called each boat's company. The heart of Joe Strange heat quick and hard as he listened to see if his boat would be called. Presently its well-known notes were sounded, and he leaned towards it; but a second thought checked him, and he but empty boats were in tow to bring off the cattle. With mudled oars they now moved towards the shore, going west of the Black Boys, as Joe had advised. After landing as noiselessly as possi-

with "a middy" and a few men in each. The water was still, but the night was profoundly dark. They had about a mile to go before they reached the house of the farm. Over a salt marsh and over little creeks, and over bars of sand, and through the stiff sedge grass, they want till they reached the house. There were no signs of mon, and the cattle was now necessary to light their lanterns and seatch. On lighting the lantern the officer said, Jo: Strange, where is your hat, sir?" "It was knocked off in the dark as we landod sir, and I could not find it.' After searching all about the premises and

just been through that grove myself, and there are no cattle there." Again the cow-bell was heard to tinkle

Joe waited no second bidding, but with a lantern in his hand, made for the glove. See cely had be entered it before the flash and the roar of a gun was heard, and his light extinguished.

"Forward there, marines," cried the commander of the expedition. But the marines were some way off, and they seemed in no hurry to enter the bushes. At length, however, they entered, expecting every moment to be fired upon, or at least to stumble over the dead body of Joe Strange; but they met with nothing except finding Joa's lantern, and near by it a large Whether Joe was killed or carried off bodily they could not tell, but concluded there must be some Yankee trick about it. In moody silence, they turned and set the house and barn on fire, and then returned to their boats and to the ship to report; "No cattle found and one man lost." Whether to report Joe as killed, or made a prisoner, or a deserter, the officer was at a lose.

"The tide of pleasure travel flows lazily this season. The cholera runs rampart over the country, and money is one per cent a month.-Relaxed bowels and a tightened purse keep peo ple at home. Those who are not afiald of cholera are afraid of their creditors, and those who can look the latter boldly in the face, and slap their hands courageously on a well-filled wallet. go into tremors over green apples, and shake their heads solemnly as they put their hands on the lower abdomen. So between the lack of bowels of compassion in these times, and the superabundance of bowels of impassion in the physical system, a good many people, to whom home is a stranger in July and August, are successfully holding out in their own castles against the sheriff and the doctor. Happy for them it is so. Lucky if health and immunity are so easily nurchased. Let them add a contented spirit, and they will taste of joys in the quiet circles of home that are strangers in the crowded and heated and dusty rail-car, and in the cribbed, cabined, confined quarters of a fashionable hotel at a fashionable resort."

THE GULF OF BOTHNIA.—There is not an inch of the Galf of Bothnia but we havee rossed over: it is a very strange place; the effect of the irregular refraction is very singular; the other morn ing we saw a lighthouse in the air, and on looking at the chart it proved to be 50 or 60 miles off. Ships appear when they are nearly a day's sail from them, now with three hulls, now without sails, in a moment with a cloud of ennyass. now turned upside down, and half a dozen ships are over the other, all as large as the bigest three-decker; when you come up with her she is some insignificant little coaster. We are within a couple of degrees of the Artic eirele; the sun does not set until 10 P. M., and he raises about 2. We have broad day light all the time he is below the horizon. We are going up to the head of the gulf, and when there we shall see the sun at midnight .- [Letter from an officer in the Napier fleet.

INCCULATION FOR CHOLERA. - Inoculation with "austic issues," now creating so much excitement and wonder among the medical savans of urope and the United States from the simpli city of its character, was not discovered by a distinguished Berlin physician, but by an America i physician who is extensively known in this country. It was sent by him to the leading minds of this country and Europe as far back as 1817, and is gradually being tried as a successful and practical experiment since then. It is now seeking its way into the Prussian and Russian armies, and ere long will no doubt be introduced into Austria, France and England. It will extend itself with electrical effect over the world as the opposite of vaccination, entirely neutralizing another pestilence. It is noticed by physicians as a singular fact, that small pox precedes and succeeds this Asiatic cholera. The late Russian minister, Bodisco, introduced it to the attention of the Emperor of Russia, a year prior to his demise. As a successful experiment, it is now showing itself in practical illustrations of its preventive power, in isolated instances over this country, and will, no doubt hereafter become a fixed fact. This simple process will, when introduced, be the means of saving large sums to European governments, together with the lives of their soldiers. The discoverer receives a reward, so noticed by European presses, diplomas from each of the universities, together with jewels taken from the crown of each monarch. The prizes through all Eupope, offered since 1819 for an "absolute and reliable preventive"

About a year and a half since, some persons in searching at West Milford, Passaic Co., N. J., for hon ore, came across a bed of clay, with the nature of which they were unacquainted.— Until recently it has not been improved, on account of ignorance of its value; but a scientific investigation has revealed the fact that it is Koalin, an exceedingly valuable porcelain clay, which is quite scarce. It can be used in the manufacture of porcelain ware, tiles, fire brick, the glazing of cards, soup paint, etc. The deposit at West Milford is of the purest kind. It

THE RESULT IN IOWA .- There is now no longer any room to doubt the complete success of the anti-Nebraska ticket in Iowa. A whiggovernor, two whig congressmen and an anti-Nebraska majority in both branches of the legislature, by which a United States senator is to be chosen, are the fruits of the victory. It is aresult of more than ordinary importance. It is a foresumer of what may and must be acconplished in all the northern states. Strongly denocratic, and naturally proslavery, the most that could be felt in other states, was a hope that the opponents of the Nebraska law might succeed in Iowa, but it was hoping against hope, and those interested in other states, would have compromised, before the event, for only partial success. How agreeably are they surprised by the complete and overwhelming victory of our gallant friends in that state. Let this encourage our friends in all the other states. No state has been more hopelessly democratic than Iowa; no state in which a democratic defeat might have been less confidently predicted. But she leads the van in a glorious triumph; let her sister states promptly sustain her when it shall be

The Madison Journal publishes an amu' sing account of a meeting of the "glorious democracy" at that place, for the purpose of choosing delegates to the democratic county conventhe matter, as was evinced by the fact that 500 town. votes were east; just about the entire demo cratic vote. One man, as frequently happens at such gatherings, got over patriotic. The Jour-

He had got drunk on the glorious occa-sion, went into Mr. Honn's store, was unpleasantly noisy, and was unceremoniously pitched out upon the sidewalk. He was carnestly entrenting Mr. Honn to "do It again" when Messrs. Welch and Roundy interfered, and he was obliged to pass the night in inglorious confinetookup.-On the 6th day of September, 1845, J. M. Burgess, esq., of this city, advertised in the Gazette, the following property for sale: "Twenty-one village lots, most of them eight rods square, and on which there is a very comfortable house sixteen by twenty-eight feet, a good well of water and a large garden well fented; also, five acres adjoining, the village plat, under fence; also one hundred and sixty acres of prairie, lying on the road from Janesville to Waterloo, three miles from Janesville." Will any of our city readers venture to set the price asked for this property without its finding a purchaser? No one will: be likely to set it low enough. It was, just seven hundred dollars, cash down! For the curiosity of the thing, we should like to see a fair estimate taken of this same property now, exclusive of any improvements that may have been put upon it since. The ratio of increase would be very great.

Daniel Mitchell, formerly a barber in Beloit, but more recently of Baraboo, has been held to bail in the sum of $100 for stealing a gold watch of M. W. Jenks of Beloit, in June last. Jenks was exhibiting the watch among a party of friends at the Beloit house, and saw no is of various colors, white, red, chocolate and more of it until it was recently discovered in the hands of Mitchell. In default of procuring bail, he has been committed to jail to await his trial at the next term of the circuit court. The Beloit Journal, after stating the above 'facts, savs.

U. G. R.—That "culled pusson" familiarly known to our citizens as "Doe," who has for some time past devoted his time and vocal talents to the service of the Rock River Hotel as porter and runner to the cars therefor, received on Morday last an intimation that all fugitive slaves stand on slippery places, and was advised to take passage on the above mentioned road, which we learn extends considerably further nort) than the Beloit and Madison-even to Her Majesty's dominions; and Humanity being confuctor on it, "goods and chattels" have for some time been passed duty free into Canada, evan before the late reciprocity treaty between tle U. S. and Canada was confirmed. This furnelies another proof that humanity often anticipites legislation.

The "Doe" was not a man of brilliant parts, jut he did what he could to make the understandings of others shine. His powers of permeet in their respective assembly districts and select isuasion were remarkable, his emphatic invitation, " right this way for the Rock River hotel," seldom being disregarded. But he is "gone where the good niggers go." His southern proprietor need give himself no unnecessary concern and expense in regard to hint. * Sle itur ad north astra."

STREET AFFRAY .- Tom. Hood a self-nominated candidete for judge of this circuit, made a pugilistic attack upon C. D. Finch, this morning, on Fairchilds corner, on account of some reflections unde upon the character of said Hood by Finch. To say nothing of the propriety of a candidate for judge fighting his way to an election, we think, in this instance, a candidate would have more than he could do between this and election if he should attempt to chastise every man in community who regards him as a notorious gambler and a worthless character, besides having to "clean out" seweral grand uries in Ohio who have heretofore found indictments against him. We regret the accessity of having to deal with such characters, but while there are men in community, laying claims to respectability, who for their own purposes, seek to impose this man upon us, with high judicial functions, we see no alternative.—

Osukosu Brick .-- We were shown yesterday by Messrs. Cross and Matthews, specimens of brick made by them at their yard in this city. They are equal in every respect to the famous Milwaukee brick, being of an even buff color, and so hard that they ring like metal when struck together. But one kiln, containing about 50,000 has yet been burnt, but now that it has been shown beyond a doubt that we have the requisite materials for their manufacture in bundance, the business will be prosecuted with the vigor and earnestness its importance demands. - Oshkosh Conrier.

ENTERTAINMENTS.—Our citizens are to be favored with entertainments at Apollo Hall, Tuesevening by the Algerine troupe, and Wednesday evening by Monsieur Canderbeck, the celebrated imitator on the violin, assisted by his lady on the German harp. Both performers are very highly spoken of by our exchanges.

PINE LUMBER.-Mr. Norris is now sawing about 10,000 feet of pine lumber, and when he gets his new mill done, will be able to saw 200, 000 per week. We have no means of ascertaining the extent of the demand, for this portion of the state, but it seems to us that the rate of supply mentioned above would be sufficient to supply the whole southern and south-western yart of Wisconsin, and a portion of northern Illinois, and there is no question but that it can be afforded as cheap here as at the lake ports.

HASTY RETREAT .- The Crane arrived in Boston on Sunday, having on board Mr. Fabens U. S. commercial agent at Greytown. This percipitate departure from the scene of the outruge is a fitting sequel to the cowardly attack upon San Juan. Was the commander afraid of meeting a British force more than "doubly his own? So brave a man ought to have remained and seen the affair to an end. It rould have occurred to almost any other officer in the service that the presence of an armed vessel in the waters of Nicaragua might be needed for the protection of the interests of American citizens, inecessarily imperiled by the wanton destruction of the property of for eigners at Greytown. Hollins' conduct appears to resemble that of the incendiary, who having fired a house, runs away to avoid the consequences. He may have acted under the orders of the navy department; but in that case we think he would have been excused if he had remained long enough to see what was to come of his exploit.—Buff. Com.

D. S. Rudock, editor of the New London Star, has been appointed surveyor of that port. The Star supported the Nebraska bill. As the salary of the office is $500, and as the Star is not much of a paper, the New Bedford Standard is inclined to think the administration has got the worst of the trade! This editor is the sixth in the state that has been appointed to office by this disinterested and discriminating administration, and these six patriots are the only zealous defenders of the eccontricities of their patrons, in the "land of steady liabits." HARD OF HEARING-DOING A DUN.-"I have a small bill against you," said the pertinacious collector, as he entered the store of one who had acquired the character of a hard customer. Yes, sir, a very fine day, indeed," was the ream not speaking of the weather, but your bill," replied Peter, in a loud key. "He would be better if we had a little rain." "Confound the rain," continued the collector, and raising his voice: "Have you any money to pay on the bill?" "Beg your pardon, I'm hard of hearing: I have made it a rule not to lend my funds to strangers, and I really don't recog "I am collector for the Philadelphia Daily Extinguisher, sir, and I have a bill against persisted the collector, at the top of his voice, producing the bill, and thrusting it into the face of his debtor. "I've determined to endorse for no one, you may put that note back in your pocket-book. I really can't endorse it." Confound your endorsements—will you pay it?" "You will pay it no doubt sir; but there's always a risk about these matters you know, so I must decline it." "The money must be mine "Oh, yes, ninety days; but I would not endorse for you for a week; so clear out of my store. It's seldom that I'm pressed upon for an endorsement, even by my friends; on the part of a stranger, sir, such conduct is inexplicable. Do not force me to put you out: leave the premises." And the bill was returned to the Extinguisher office endorsed-"So confounded deaf that he could'nt understand."-Illustrated

Also a fine assertment of figure of the 11th inst., I would state, that in the month | FLASKS. (1919) | HOLDEN, KEMP & Co. of October, 1852, I was in the office of Gen. Pierce, in Concord, New Hampshire, and lad at that time a conversation with him in relation to appropriations by the general government for the improvement of western rivers and harbors. Taking a bound volume of printed speeches and letters in his hand, he turned to the letter of Silas Wright to the Chicago convention, and observed that the sentiments of that letter were his own; that he was not in favor of appropriations by the general government for the purpose of creating commerce in places where it did not exist, but wherever it did exist, it ought to be protected and encouraged, and that he had no more doubt of the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations by the general govern-ment for the improvement of western harbors and rivers than he had of the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations by the general government for the construction of light-houses and other similar objects on the Atlantic coast, and he added " I understand the letter of Silas Wright to the Chicago convention to be satisfactory to all western men." These are his statements as then made, and to show that I am not mistaken, I copy this statement of his, from a memorandum then made, at Gen. Pierce's own suggestion. Sand Bar, however, is mistaken as to my having performed a "pilgrimage" to see General Pierce in the year 1852.

I was formerly a resident of New Hampshire and have relatives there, and on passing through Concord, on my return from visiting them, I met Gen. Pierce at the railroad depot and accompanied him to his office, being desirous of ascertaining precisely his views of appropriations for harbors and rivers, about which there were doubts in the minds of many democrats,

Yours, truly, W. E. WORDING. Aug. 12, 1854. -Racine Advocate. HUMILIATING CONFESSION .- Wentworth says

"Only four senators from the free states voted against the river and harbor improvement bill, and every one of them voted to repeal the Missouri compromise law. When a northern man undertakes to go with the south, he has but little margin in which to be useful to his constituents. The more he does the more they exact."

Humiliating as it is, it is novertheless true that the more northern doughfaces do the more is exacted from them. Their noses are kept continually to the grindstone. They are not only called upon to pass fugitive slave laws, but unless they turn out in person to catch every fugitive that comes along, they are denounced as abolitionists, and held up as willing to destroy the union. Like the daughters of the horse leech, the south are continually crying give give!! and it is just such men as "affectionate Frank Pierce" that "acquiesce," aided and abetted by such immaculate fellows as this same John Wentworth .- Chicago Journal.

The ONE PRICE CASH SYSTEM, originally introduced into this community and strictly adhered to by this Establishment, has won for it a reputation far more valuable than the Stupendous Self-puttings, quarterly renewed, industriously circulated but universally discredited, which many modern shop keepers deem indispensable to success.

The system will of course be continued—admitting no variation or improvement—to the satisfaction undoubtedly of a large and most desirable class of customers, although at the sacrifice probably of the steady patron-

Janesville Clothing Emportum. WM. ADDY,

HAS received his Spring and Summer STOCK, consisting of the very Best and Fashlounble CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, DOLSKINS AND VESTINGS, of English, French and American manufacture.

This establishment is now, as usual, the fearly appeared rower, for the TINGS, of English, French and American manufacture.

This establishment is now, as usual, the favorite place of resort for the fashionable, the Cutting Department still being under my own personal supervision, and warranted to suit the most difficult, twenty per cent lower than any other establishment in the State.

No Fit, No Sale is my doctrine. You will ask how I can do this; I will tell you; From my long experience in this business, and being a practhen Tailor, I know when, where and how to buy my floods, what to pay for them, and how to cut them, not having to secure the services of an eminent artist, at a salary of $1,000 to $1,500 a year, which the purchaser must pay for—this is the secret. I have got on hand a good assortment of Ready Made Clothing, of my own manufacture, and warranted in every respect. Call and examine, before you buy elsewhere, 690 Village Lots!

THE undersigned offers at private sale

I SIX HUNDRED VILLAGE LOTS, situated in "Hickory Olen" and "Pixley & Shaw's" addition to Janesville, and located in the immediate vicinity of the Milwankee and Mississippi railroad depot, in the city of Janesville.

The above property is but a short distance from the present business center of the thriving city of Janesville, and towards which, through the inducee of the ville, and towards which, through the induence of the various railroads, in operation and projected, the business of the city is fast linding its way.

It is unnecessary to speak of the peculiar advantages of an investment in a property so centrally located in the largest inland city in the State of Wisconsin—a city so widely known for its thrift and business prosperly, possessing extensive water-power and surrounded by the best farming country in the world—as every one at all conversant with the progress of western cities will see at once these advantages.

The above property is offered at very low rates, and on the most favorable terms, particularly to those who wish to make immediate improvements on purchases.

Also, 1,000 Acres of the Best Improved Farming Lands, eituated within a few miles of the city, which will be sold in lots to suit purchasers, from 40 to 820 acres. For particulars enquire of the undersigned at "Planty & Kimball's Hardware Store," or of Thomas Shaw.

$15,000 Worth of LOOTS AND SHOES JUST RECEIVED AT THE Wisconsin Boot & Shoe Store.

NEW GOODS!

AM now receiving one of the largest and finest stocks of Boots and Shoes that I have ever before brought to Janesville, and what is finer than all the rest, I can sell them at lower prices than I have ever sold before, notwithstanding the great ad-vance in the Eastern Market. My assortment of Ladies Fine Shoos. in particular, I have no hostitution in saying tannot be equaled in the State, both for style and durability, being all made to order, and in such a manner that I can warrant every article I sell, with the understanding at all times, that if they do not come up to the warrant, they shall be mended free of charge.

GENTLEMEN'S WEAR. In this line I know beyond a doubt that I can show you a finer assertment and at better prices by twenty-five per cent, than can be found at any of the side shops or Dry Goods stores about town. I want it distinctly understood that I make the BOOT AND SHOR TRADE my WHOLE STUDY, and that I my More, Sell-More and know more about the trade, than the whole pile of petty dealers put together. And I know also that I can make it an object for Every Farmer has Reach County, as well as every one that has BROCK County, as well as every one that trades in Janesville to buy their Boots and Shoes of me for the more I sell the smaller profits I can sell at.

Manufacturing. I want to say a few words to you in regard to my Manufacturing Department, to wit: That I am now engaged more extensively in the manufacturing business, and probe bly am selling more custom work than all the shows about town put together single for these shops about town put together, simply for these reasons—that I use better Stock, being entirely of Eastern tannage, which every one knows is worth twenty-five per cent more than the common western tanned leather; and what is a better reason and of greater impor-

Sell my Castom Work at Much Lower Prices.

Sell my Cistom Work at Much Lower Prices, and at the same time sell you a better article than you can get at the shops, for this reason, which you must all see is a very palpable one, that in buying my stock cast and in such large quantities, I of course save a very large per cent, and thereby can sell at lower prices and at the same time make my profits.

I want to state further that I have secured the services of Mr. Buckingham, who has formerly been engaged in the manufacturing business on the west side of the River, and who is known by every one to be the best manufacturer in the city; and I we don't get you up a better article, both in regard to style and durability, we will forfelt our money and our reputation, and I pledge you my word that this is no small forfelt, Leather and Findings. I have just received over $8,000 worth of the very best brands of Enviern Sole & Upper Lenthgether with a full assortment of MOROCCOS of every kind, which I will sell at Precisely Milwankee and Chiengo Prices. I have constantly on hand, also, a large assortment of all kings of FINDINGS, LASTS, BOOT TREES, CRIMPS, etc., etc., all of which will be sold at the same rates, I request the attention of manufacturers in town as well as in the country to my stock, as I think I can make it an object for you to buy of me. At least, I can sell you a much superior article to that which you get of the bediers.

er; also, a very large assortment of FRENCH and PHILADELPHIA KIP and PRENCH CALF SKINS, to

TO THE LADIES.

I would say that I am undervory great obligation for the partiality you have shown me, in always procuring your understandings from me, and I now publicly promise and swear that I will make every one of you who may be entitled to the same a present of a handsome pair of CACKS, when I shall have closed up my shoselling career. I would say further, that I am prepared to get up to order any style of work you wish, at low rates.

Yours respectfully,
